HALL ADMITS KILLING GREENLEASE BOY

Suspect in Turnpike Murders Caught by New Mexico Police

State Police Chase Wable For 20 Miles

24-Year-Old Fugitive Held on Pennsylvania Warrant for Murder

ALBUQUERUE, N. M (AP) — John Wesley Wable, 24, was arrested late last night on a Pennsylvania warrant charging him with the "Phantom of the Turnpike" murders after a 20-mile chase by New Mexico state police.

Wable, described as "highly dangerous," told a reporter a few hours after his capture as he lay shivering in a small, dark cell in the Bernalillo County Jail:

"I'm not guilty. I don't know anything about the murders. I'm just cold and tired."

Wable later told Undersheriff Walter Geis he thought he knew the "phantom killer."

"I'm not saying, but I think I know him. I'll get him. I've got friends that'll get him. But I'm not saying who he is until I get back to Pennsylvania."

Led High-Speed Chase

Only a while before the lanky, medium-sized Wable had led state police a high-speed automobile chase and then escaped on foot after two companions "who I picked up in California" were captured.

Wable finally was captured when a woman notified police she had seen him hitchhiking on the outskirts of Belen. He gave up without a struggle.

He is accused of shooting Harry F. Pitts, 39, Bowling Green, Va., and Lester B. Woodward, 39, Duncannon, Pa., last July on the Pennsylvania Turnpike, a 327-mile superhighway running from the Ohio border to near Philadelphia.

The two truck drivers were shot in the head as they slept in their parked truck. Their bodies were found within three days of each other. Police said they had been robbed.

Denies Owning Pistol

Wable, alone in the 4-by-7-foot, lightless cell, denied knowing anything about the foreign-made pistol used in the two killings and believed to be his.

"I don't know anything about any gun," he said. "I'm just cold."

Sheriff's officers said Wable threatened to kill himself and was put in solitary confinement. Wable, lying down with his knees huddled about his body for warmth, said:

"I told them if I'm ever found guilty of any kind of murder, then I'd kill myself. I'd hang myself. I didn't mean I'd kill myself now. But I'm innocent."

He said he'd left Pennsylvania "Monday a week in a car I borrowed from a friend after a drinking spree." He said he didn't know anything about the car being stolen.

"I went to California where I picked up the two guys," he said.

Nurse, Girl Friend To Share Reward

PITTSBURGH (AP)—"Golly — I'm stunned!"

That was the way Miss Caroline Smith, 23, a nurse, received the news that she and her friend, Miss Midge Harmon, will probably share the $11,000 reward for information leading to the capture of the turnpike killer.

The Sun-Telegraph reached Miss Smith by phone at the Belen General Hospital, Belen, N. M., to tell her about the reward money. She said:

"That's wonderful news. That's more money than I ever saw at one time. Midge and I would go all the way to Pittsburgh to collect that much money.

"All we did was try to help the police. We never knew that this man we supposed to have killed two truckers on the turnpike.

"I can't talk much longer. I'm busy in surgery right now. But please keep me posted. You can say that we never heard about any reward money and that we won't turn it down."

Miss Smith, supervisor of nurses at the hospital, and Miss Harmon drove up a lonely country road to scout for a man who was connected with a robbery. Instead, they spotted John Wable, the man charged with the turnpike killings.

United Appeals Drive Starts; Quota of $170,462 Is Sought

Guiana Reds Battle British With Boycotts

Ousted Premier Calls For General Protest Strike Against Troops

GEORGETOWN, British Guiana (AP)—Ousted leftist Cabinet ministers in Britain's South American colony launched a general strike and anti-British boycott today but the Pan-American Day holiday delayed any effects until tomorrow.

Fired Prime Minister Cheddi Jagan said his People's Progressive party (PPP) had called the walkout and cold-shoulder treatment "because our country has been invaded by foreign troops and our democratic rights have been taken away."

Britain rushed 600 Royal Welsh Fusiliers here from Jamaica last week and kicked out Jagan and the five other PPP Cabinet ministers Friday, charging they were plotting to bring the 83,000-square mile colony of 438,000 persons under domination of communism linked with Russia.

The Privy Council in London also suspended the Constitution granted the colony five months earlier and

300 Attend Kickoff Breakfast in New YMCA Building

By EDNA S. DUTTON

The 1953-54 Marion County United Appeals campaign to raise $170,462 was launched today with an early bird breakfast at 7:30 a. m. in the new YMCA.

Approximately 300 campaign leaders, representatives of the United Appeals agencies, campaign salesmen and saleswomen and members of the agency boards attended the breakfast at which David J. Isaly, chairman of the campaign committee, presided. The invocation was by Rev. Ashley G. Booth, pastor of Central Christian Church.

Bigger Contributions Asked

Givers this year will be asked to raise their contributions to insure full support of the work of the United Appeals Agencies, the Marion County Chapter of the American Red Cross, Marion County Unit of the American Cancer Society, Marion Community Foundation, Marion County Heart Association.

Complete coverage and a more intensive campaign is the challenge to the salesmen and saleswomen.

Enthusiasm was the keynote of the breakfast meeting at which talks were heard from the general campaign chairman, Cutler A. McGrew, Charles Sherer, assistant general chairman, and J. B. Bray, president of United Appeals. Heads of the various divisions and agencies were presented. As the agency heads were introduced their groups "stood to be counted."

Quota 'Not Too Big'

"The quota is not too big for Marion County," J. B. Bray told the workers. Pointing out that each year the quota is increasing in keeping with the expansion of the work of the United Appeals agencies, it is still below the level of many other counties in the state, he stated.

The quota this year is needed to carry on the work that must be done in our community and which the people want done and know in their hearts must be done, Mr. Bray added. He gave as the answer for the success of the campaign work on the part of the salesmen and sharing by the citizens of the county for the next three weeks. "We have a good organization and enthusiastic workers and we've got to keep going."

He described the campaign as a "big job ahead" and said the breakfast tattendance, the biggest and most representative at any kickoff meeting, was "an encouraging omen for the drive."

Introduces Agency Heads

Assistant General Chairman Sherer termed the dollars raised in the campaign as being turned into good of the community. He introduced the heads of the agencies.

U.S. Economy Prospers, Ike's Advisers Say

WASHINGTON (AP) — Just about every aspect of the nation's economy was well above levels of a year earlier last month, President Eisenhower's economic advisers said yesterday, despite slight declines from last spring.

Farm income was one notable exception, but the report indicated that the earlier price squeeze on farmers had relaxed a little.

There are now two members, Arthur F. Burns and Neil F. Jacoby, on the President's Council of Economic Advisers. Their periodic reports to Congress on the nation's economic health are published monthly.

At the end of September, three-fourths of the way through 1953, general economic activity continued very high, they said, although total output was down slightly as government spending fell off a little and businessmen slowed accumulation of stocks.

The gross national product—the total dollar value of all the nation's goods and services—was estimated at an annual rate of 371 billion dollars for the third quarter of this year.

That was 25½ billion dollars higher than in the third quarter of 1952, and compared with an annual rate of 372½ billions in the second quarter of this year—a record figure.

H-Bomb Race Crucial, Says Congressman

Russia May Outstrip U.S., Rep. Cole Warns; Speedup Is Demanded

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — Rep. W. Sterling Cole (R-NY) said today the United States should assign wartime urgency to its hydrogen bomb program because, he said, Russia may shortly have "hundreds or even thousands" of H-bombs.

Cole, chairman of the Senate-House Atomic Energy Committee, said the Soviets "exploded a hydrogen weapon" two months ago today, and he declared:

"If our own hydrogen effort falters, as it must not and need not, the Soviets have it within their capacity to outstrip us—and outstrip us decisively—within a relatively short period of time.

"Here is the stark arithmetic of the matter: Seven years elapsed between Hiroshima and our own hydrogen test of last fall; four years elapsed between the first Russian A-bomb that we detected and Moscow's hydrogen test. These are not very comforting statistc . .

"The Soviets have progressed with unexpected speed because they have assigned supreme and overriding priority to their project from the very outset."

Cole, whose committee position brings him up-to-date information on the U. S. atomic program, spoke out in a speech prepared for a meeting of state and national officers of the American Legion.

America's atomic stockpile is large enough "to inflict devastat-

May Start Wednesday

Reds Set To Commence On Prisoner Interviews

PANMUNJOM (AP)—The Communists indicated today they are ready to start interviews Wednesday for North Korean and Chinese war prisoners who refuse to return home. The POW repatriation commission took steps to get the delay-plagued explanations under way.

The development came amidst charges by the U. N. Command that the Reds had shipped crated combat aircraft into North Korea in violation of the armistice terms.

'Urgent' Request

A UNC spokesman said an "urgent request" for investigation had been handed the Neutral Nations Supervisory Commission, the four-nation body charged with policing the truce.

However, at the same time, Gen. John E. Hull, new U. N. Far Eastern commander, told newsmen he knew of "no serious" violations of the armistice by the Communists.

"There have been some indications of violations," he said, "but I know of no serious ones at present."

No Numbers Given

The U. N. members of the Military Armistice Commission asserted in a statement that the Communists had shipped the crated aircraft from Manchuria to Uiju airfield on the south side of the Yalu River, just a few miles from the huge Red air base at Antung, Manchuria.

The U. N. statement gave no numbers of type.

Hull flew to Korea Monday in his first visit to the battered peninsula since taking over the top U. N. Command post from Gen. Mark W. Clark.

Child's Grave Made Prior To Kidnaping

Woman Accomplice Also Confesses; Both Absolve Third Person

WASHINGTON (AP)—The FBI said today Carl Austin Hall and Mrs. Bonnie Brown Heady have confessed they alone kidnaped Bobby Greenlease and Hall killed the boy.

Director J. Edgar Hoover said Hall, 34, and his 41-year-old girl friend have confessed, too, that Bobby's grave was dug in her backyard in St. Joseph, Mo., and lime was purchased to put over his body even before the 6-year-old child was abducted.

Killed in Kansas

Hoover said it has been determined that a point in Kansas, about 12 miles from Kansas City, Mo., where Bobby was abducted, was the actual site of the killing.

In this light, the federal government is filing kidnaping charges at Kansas City under the Lindbergh law.

This statute carries a possible death penalty when the victim of a kidnaping is harmed. The federal law can be invoked only when a state line is crossed.

Earlier, when it appeared no state line had been crossed, the federal government had announced prosecution of Hall and Mrs. Heady would be left to the state of Missouri.

Call Off Hunt for Marsh

With the new confessions—which Hoover said were signed statements—the FBI called off a hunt for Tom Marsh, the tattooed man whose name was brought into the case soon after the arrest of Hall and Mrs. Heady.

Hall's story at that time was that Marsh, a 37-year-old ex-convict, had killed Bobby.

Federal charges could be brought since Bobby was taken across a state line.

The crossing of a state line is a necessary factor under the federal Lindbergh law which provides for the death penalty if the victim is harmed.

Atty. Gen. Brownell had announced late last week the federal government would step aside in favor of Missouri state prosecution, since there was no evidence then that a state line had been crossed.

Hoover said today, however, the site of the murder has been definitely located in the state of Kansas about 1½ miles off of Rt. 69 and about 12 miles outside of Kansas City, Mo.

A mechanical pencil of a type known to have been in the boy's possession at the time of his abduction was found at this site, the announcement said.

Murdered in Kansas

Hoover said the FBI laboratory has also identified a bullet embedded in the floor mat of a 1951 Plymouth station wagon owned by Mrs. Heady, and used in the abduction, as having been fired from Hall's .38 caliber revolver.

The revolver was recovered by St. Louis police at the time they

Tito Asks Four-Power Discussions on Trieste

SHOUTING AND WAVING their fists, an angry mob gathers outside the Italian Embassy in Belgrade, Yugoslavia, to protest the return to Italy of Zone A of the Free Territory of Trieste. The demonstration followed announcement that the United States and Great Britain will soon withdraw their troops from this area and hand civil administraton over to the Italian government. Roving crowds smashed windows in the United States, British and Italian Embassies, shouting: "We are ready to give our lives for Trieste."

Protest Note To U.N. Also Is Dispatched

Dictator Demands U.S., Britain, Italy Join Him for Talks

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (AP)—Yugoslavia today demanded a conference with the United States, Britain and Italy to discuss last week's British-American decision on the future of Trieste.

Yugoslavia also sent a protest to the United Nations secretary general on the decision to withdraw British and American occupation troops from Zone A of the Trieste territory and turn it over to Italian administration.

Anti-U.S. Feeling Mounts

Yugoslavia's new demands and protest were made against a background of increasing anti-American and anti-British feeling in Belgrade. In the latest outburst an angry mob attacked a U.S. diplomatic official and smashed his nose.

The crowd was apparently stirred by President Tito's speech in Skolje yesterday in which he would send troops marching into Trieste's Zone Z "at the moment" Italian occupation forces entered. Military leaves were canceled for all Yugoslav troops but British and American soldiers continued preparations to withdraw from Zone A.

(Reports from London said the United States, Britain and France —apparently shocked by the bitterness of the Yugoslav reaction— were consulting urgently through diplomatic channels over the Yugoslav threat. Diplomatic informants said one idea up for discussion is a conference of Yugoslav, Italian, American, British and French representatives soon to insure that peace is maintained.

Note to Ambassadors

Yugoslavia's call for a conference was laid down in a note presented first to British Ambassador Sir William Ivo Mallet and Woodruff Wallner, the U. S. charge d'affaires, and later to the Italian minister here.

The note declared the British-American decision concerning Trieste "is likely to endanger the maintenance of international peace and security, should it be carried into effect."

The note added that this country's government remains conscious "of its obligations emanating from the charter of the United Nations."

It said Yugoslavia "considers, in the first place, its duty to propose to the governments of the United Kingdom, the United States of America and the republic of Italy direct talks.

"In the opinion of the Yugoslav government, a conference of the representatives of the above-mentioned governments and the government of Yugoslavia, which would put the question of the possibility of eliminating a situation threatening peace on their agenda,

1,000 Visit Tomb

President Harding Honored by Scouts

Nearly 500 Boy and Girl Scouts and adult Scout leaders took part in the 22nd Harding Memorial Pilgrimage to the former President's tomb south of Marion Sunday afternoon.

In ceremonies at the Memorial, Robert T. Gray, president of the Harding Area Boy Scout Council, and Mrs. Richard Myers, commissioner of the Marion-Morrow Girl Scout Council, honored the late President and his wife in talks to the Scouts and an estimated 500 onlookers.

GRAY, ADDRESSING the group on "Honoring A Prepared Citizen," spoke of President Harding as a prepared citizen and told them that "we must all prepare ourselves and the youth of the world to become better citizens."

Mrs. Myers, paying tribute to Mrs. Harding, stated that she exemplified the ideals of the Girl Scout movement and that as honorary president of the Girl Scouts at the time Harding was President she represented everything the Girl Scouts stood for and felt in their promise.

The pilgrimage began with a parade from the downtown area to the Memorial on Route 23. After the Memorial program the Harding Home and Museum was opened to Scouts, leaders and members of the Harding High School and Bird-McGinnis American Legion bands. Refreshments of donuts and hot chocolate, provided by the Harding Memorial Association, were served to the Scouts, leaders and band members.

EUGENE WHITE, Scoutmaster of Troop 5, Marion, was grand marshal of the parade, leading it from W. Center and Prospect Sts. up Center St. and south on Main St. and Delaware Ave. to the Memorial.

Mrs. Ann Meredith, Girl Scout field director, and Dean Johnson, district Boy Scout executive, who were assistant grand marshals, followed White. Then came Explorers Jack Hale of Post 2, Marion, and Dick Parshall of Post 3, Marion, and Senior Scouts Ruth Ann Persinger of Troop 2, Marion, and Sue Brashear of Troop 65, LaRue, aides to the grand marshal.

The Harding High School band, Girl Scouts, Cubs, the Bird-McGinnis band, and Scouts and Explorers rounded out the parade.

SCOUTS AND LEADERS assembled at the steps of the Memorial for the massing of flags there and then "To the Colors," played by a trumpeter from the Bird-McGinnis band, got the program under way. The Harding band played the Star-Spangled Banner and the Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag was given by Air Explorer William Whitmore of Post 31, Upper Sandusky.

Rev. H. V. Falor of the Oakland EUB Church gave the invocation and Scout Philip Blue of Troop 36, LaRue, and Intermediate Judy Scholten of Troop 49, Green Camp, led the Girl and Boy Scouts in the Boy Scout Oath and Girl Scout Promise.

Following the talks by Gray and

Faith Stronger Than Bombs, Dulles Declares

WATERTOWN, N. Y. (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles holds that "our best reliance is not more and bigger bombs, but a way of life which reflects religious faith."

"There is no despotism in the world," Dulles asserted last night, "which can stand up against the impact" of a "gospel of freedom" based on Christian principles.

And he declared that "Soviet rulers are attempting the impossible" in trying to mold the citizens of satellite nations "to their materialistic and repressive rule."

"We believe that the subject peoples have faith and hopes which he told an interdenominational community meeting.

About 1,700 persons attended the meeting, which marked the 150th anniversary of the founding of the first Presbyterian Church. Dulles recalled that his father preached there for 16 years.

Dulles cautioned against what he termed the view of "a small minority" that the thoughts and expressions of U. S. citizens should be repressed in the face of international dangers.

He said some people "honestly feel that the danger is so imminent that we should impose uniformity of thought, or at least of expression, abolishing diversity and tolerance within our nation and within our alliances."

Of that he said, "There is some confusion of thinking which needs to be dispelled."

"We do not intend to turn this nation into a purely material fortress and to suppress the freedom of thought and of expression," he asserted.

If that were done, he added, "our people would more and more assume the likeness of that which threatens and which we hate."

Ship Arrives, Will Evacuate U.S. Families

TRIESTE (AP)—The U. S. troopship Geiger docked here today to take the first load of American families out of the disputed Trieste territory.

The ship's arrival was scheduled long before Britain and the United States announced they would pull out their soldiers and turn over Zone A, including Trieste port, to Italy.

A wave of excitement swept over the city as the ship moved into port and rumors spread that "the Americans are going!" Reports were current that she would sail tomorrow.

The ship brought several replacement troops and 35 dependents into Trieste — proof of the suddenness of the Allied decision of evacuate. The new arrivals will be sent to Leghorn, big U. S. Army supply port in central Italy.

Army authorities did not disclose how many dependents would leave here on the Geiger. But most of those sailing on her will be wives and children of U. S. servicemen.

Churchill Call For 4-Power Talks Opposed

Sen. Hickenlooper, Kefauver Ask Agenda Be Decided Upon First

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senators Hickenlooper (R-Iowa) and Kefauver (D-Tenn) today opposed Winston Churchill's call for a Big Four informal discussion of world problems.

The two senators said in separate interviews they believed the United States should demand advance agreement on specific topics to be discussed before approving any such meeting.

Although both said they were speaking only for themselves, their expressed views coincided with expressed White House and State Department opposition to any free-for-all conference.

Prime Minister Churchill said in a speech in England last week that "one good thing might lead to another" if the heads of state of the United States, Britain, France and Russia got together and talked things over.

Hickenlooper, a member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee and of the Senate-House Atomic Energy Committee, said he is against "round-robin discussions."

"They never lead to anything," he said. "If we participate in any meeting of this kind, it should be limited to discussion of specific questions. If the Russians are unwilling to agree in advance on the topics to be studied, then there couldn't be much hope of success from such a conference."

Kefauver, a member of the Senate Armed Services Committe, said he thinks the groundwork for such a high-level conference would have to be laid in diplomatic exchanges long in advance.

"Unless things have been worked out so that diplomatic negotiations have reached the point where concrete agreements could be ratified by the heads of states, I don't believe any meeting has much chance of success," he said, adding:

"Of course, we ought always to keep the door open to confer with the Russians, if it appears to us that there is any real chance of accomplishing anything."

GREEN CAMP — Arrangements and plans for holding the Marion County Knights of Pythias meeting at Green Camp Thursday, were made when the lodge held its weekly meeting.

County Deputy Nelson Snyder of Morral was present and endorsed plans of the Green Camp lodge for holding the county meeting. Grand Vice Chancellor Raymond Patton of Wilkesville will be the official visitor.

It is expected that work in the page rank will be conferred. William Carr, Henry Lauer, Eugene Lyons and Harold Rice were named to serve on the social committee.

Marion County is among the first in the state to be visited by a grand lodge officer under a program set up by Grand Chancellor George Thompson. Under the plan a grand lodge officer will officially visit each county during Grand Chancellor Thompson's term in office.

Arrangements for the Green Camp meeting are under the supervision of George W. Reynolds, chancellor commander of Scioto Lodge No. 772.

80,000 Roman Catholics Hold Outdoor Mass

Public Peace Prayer Culminates March By Philadelphia Men

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Some 80,000 Roman Catholic men marched in solemn procession through downtown Philadelphia last night reciting aloud the rosary of the Virgin Mary in a public prayer for peace and conversion of the Communist world to Christianity

At the end of the line of march, a crowd estimated at 250,000 gathered on the vast stretches of the Benjamin Franklin Parkway to assist at the first outdoor evening mass in the history of the archdiocese and the second such service in the United States

The religious rally was dedicated to Our Lady of Fatima. According tao Catholic teaching, the Virgin Mary appeared to a group of Portugese children at Fatima on Oct 13 1917 and asked them to pray for peace and the conversion of Russia to Christianity

The parkway had been converted into an amphitheater with a huge, glass-enclosed altar erected in the center of a traffic circle Atop the flood-lighted altar stood a statue of Our Lady of Fatma, some 62 feet above street level

The Most Rev John F O'Hara, C S C, archbishop of Philadelphia, who delivered the sermon, asked for prayers for local, state and national government officials in the great tasks of their office, and finally for peace and the conversion of the Communist world

Before the archbishop spoke, the Rt Rev. John J McKenna read a telegram sent by Archbishop O Hara to the Polish ambassador to the United States, Josef Winiewicz

The message mentioned the rally which had assembled "for public worship to pray for peace and to beg God to enlighten the minds and move the hearts of the terrorists who have imprisoned Bishop Maczmarek and impeded Cardinal Wyszynski in his functions. . . 'in solemn pontifical mass tonight we pray that Poland and her sister states now enslaved by communism may soon be restored to the dignity under God they have earned in the past as saviours of European civilization"

Bishop Czeslaw Kaczmarek was sentenced last month by a Polish military court to 12 years in prison on charges of spying for the Vatican

On Sept. 28, Warsaw radio announced that Stefan Cardinal Wyszynski, primate of Poland, had been relieved of his church post and "allowed to withdraw into a Polish monastery"

The cardinal was accused in the broadcast of violating Poland's church-state agreement

The Vatican has denounced the action taken against the two prelates and vigorously denied charges made against them

"This may be my last sermon," the 55-year-old preacher said, "and I want to complete it"

And he did When the service was over he was taken to a hospital where he died a few hours later.

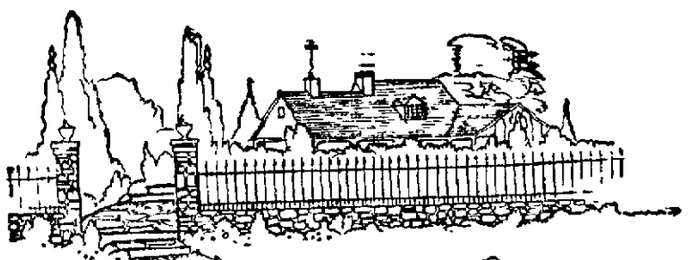
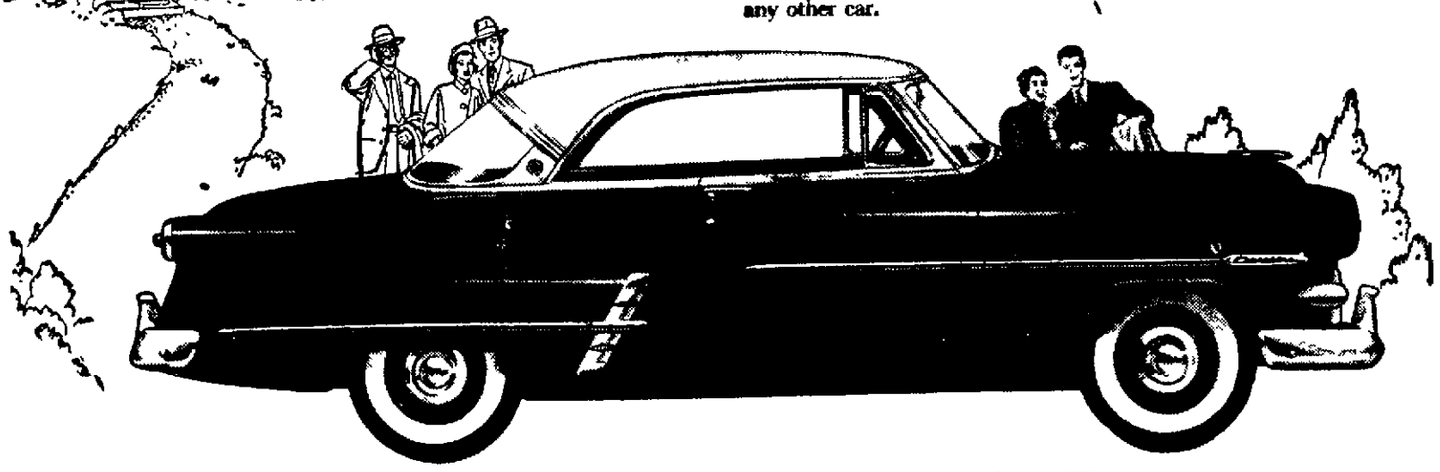
Most-liked low-priced car



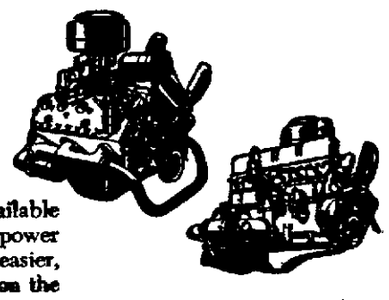


... among people who want more for their money when they buy ... and more money when they sell!

There's a big reason why more folks are buying more Fords than ever before. No other low-priced car offers so many of the things people want and need for today's driving. In fact, to get such "Worth More" Ford features as a V-8 engine, completely automatic transmission and fine-car power steering in any other car, you'd have to step well up from the low-price field.

Of course, Ford owners will discover that Ford's worth more when they sell it, too Surveys of used car prices show year-old Fords returning a higher proportion of their original cost than any other car.

because it's most like high-priced cars



Ford's V-8 is the same type of engine powering America's finest (and costliest) cars. And Ford's Mileage Maker Six is the most modern Six in the industry.

...more and more people are considering Ford as the one fine car in the low-price field!

It's hard to believe that a car which is built like the finest still sells in the low-price field Yet a Ford with its hulltight Crestmark body its Full-Circle Visibility (most in its field) its new fine car ride and roomy luggage locker (roomest in its field) delivers at a figure that keeps it right down in its price class

Ford's the only low-priced car which offers you a choice of a completely automatic transmission (Fordomatic), Overdrive or Conventional Drive. And Ford Master-Guide, available on all V-8 models, is the last word in power steering . . . makes turning up to 75% easier, yet retains the natural feel of the wheel on the straightaway.

Bank Changes Date Of Interest Payments

The Marion County Bank is changing the dates of savings accounts interest payments to June 1 and Dec. 1, W. K. Tobin, cashier, announced today.

The semi-annual payments formerly were made on Jan. 1 and July 1 of each year.

Tobin said that the change is being made to assist those depositors who must file income tax returns by June 15 and others who would like to file their returns early.

He added that the change from Jan. 1 to Dec. 1 would make the interest available to depositors before the Christmas holidays.

Tobin pointed out that the bank is not changing its rate of interest on savings accounts or on savings certificates. Interest on savings certificates is paid semi-annually in six-month periods following the date of purchase.

Where's the 'Cat' Family?

New Method of Teaching Reading Puzzles Parents

WASHINGTON (NANA)—Do you remember how they taught you to read? asks an article in Changing Times, the Kiplinger magazine. If you are over 35, it continues, you probably had to memorize the alphabet, first thing, even though you weren't quite sure what that alphabet business was all about. Then you memorized word endings by families, such as "at" in "cat" and "rat" and hat." Then you hitched other letters together to make other words, such as 'pen" and "desk" and "dog." Then you put the words together to make sentences, such as "The pen is on the desk." Then you read the sentences, and that was learning to read, and if you remember accurately, the whole process bored you stiff.

NOW THEY DO IT differently, and on the whole they probably do it better. But the new methods are not always understood. Educators themselves often botch the job of explaining just what they are trying to do. On top of that, the explanations get all mixed up in vague arguments over "progressive" versus "old-fashioned" education. Thus, to many a parent the new way of teaching kids to read is confusing at least, or appears to be downright haphazard, undisciplined and unproductive.

There are three main ideas behind the present day theory of teaching reading. The first is that the more experience with objects and word sounds a child brings to his reading, the better he will learn. The second is that a child should be taught to read only when he is ready for reading. And the third is that a child will learn to read more intelligently if he is taught less about the mechanics of letters and more about the meaning of words in a context that interest him. Learning to read is one of the most continuous and all-inclusive processes in education. It starts as soon as a child begins to understand spoken words and lasts as long as he lives. It is part of nearly everything else he learns.

IT IS ALSO ONE of the most difficult arts a child has to master. The very idea that jottings on a piece of paper can mean something is hard for him to grasp, and sorting those jottings into separate words and phrases that make sense is a long task.

A child's education in words starts when he first understands the words you speak to him and continues when he apes those words to communicate ideas or needs of his own.

Probably before he goes to school, your child will actually recognize a few of the most common signs he sees. "Hot" and "cold" on the water taps, "in and out" at the parking lot, "stop" on the street corner" sign.

The problem of what the teachers call "reading readiness" is a complicated one, because the time varies enormously from child to child.

To find out whether an individual child is ready to begin reading, the teachers have a whole string of complicated, scientifically devised tests.

ONCE A CHILD is ready to read, the good teacher uses a whole bag of tricks. She begins in those first weeks of the first grade by just continuing the things you have been doing. More storytelling, more reading aloud from simple picture books.

Also, there are lots of signs around. Labels on doors, names on coat hooks, pictures with captions on the walls. Words, in fact, are everywhere. And they are words that mean something to children.

Almost without realizing it, they begin to recognize the shapes and sizes of words. The name "Bob" doesn't look at all like "Mary". The word "apple" by the picture of an apple gets to be as much of a mental image as the picture. And so on.

Then, as the children grow in self-expression, they begin to dictate their stories to the teacher. On a big chart she writes out their description of a trip to a farm. The charts are saved and reviewed later. One day a child, pointing at the chart, will announce, "I know that word."

THE CHILDREN will find that they have learned to recognize many of the words and even some of the sentences. Finally, all of the sentences will be identified, and the children will read the chart.

When a few of the children have as many as 100 sight words at their command, they are put in a group to read from preprimer books. Soon, all the children in the room—grouped by ability—are reading from the books.

Letter recognition comes automatically, almost. Children make alphabetical card files of words they have learned and arrange their own names in alphabetical order. Before they leave the first grade, they have the alphabet down pat.

IN THE REST of the elementary grades, the children progress in much the same manner on harder and harder material, more difficult ideas, more complex words and sentences.

In a number of studies made by giving present-day pupils the same reading tests that children of the same age took in the 1920's, the modern pupils came out on top every time in reading speed and understanding.

So children these days really do learn the "letters." The modern method, though seemingly haphazard, does help the child learn to read easily—for understanding, for knowledge, for cultural attainment—and what's more, to enjoy it.

AP Inaugurates 24-Hour Service Via Teletypesetter

NEW YORK (AP)—The Associated Press today inaugurated the first extensive full-time Teletypesetter circuit available to newspapers throughout the country.

The Teletypesetter circuit simultaneously transmits news to printers and perforated tape into newspaper offices. The tape is fed into Linotype machines, speeding up the operation of transforming news into type for printing.

The AP has operated this news circuit, filed from its general offices in New York, from 2 p. m. until 7 a. m. for more than two years. It was scaled to provide 12 hours of service for morning newspapers and five hours for afternoon papers.

With the 24-hour service, however, both afternoon and morning newspapers will be able to receive full "tape" service.

The Outlaws

The kidnap-murder of little Bobby Greenlease out in Missouri has given all of us something to think about besides the possibility we may be atomized by nuclear fission in the hands of madmen.

Our own fission experts, of course are not madmen but scientists devoted to the proposition that if America is going to be destroyed it will give as good as it takes. There will be no unilateral destruction of civilization, in other words. If someone starts it, Americans will help finish it.

In the meantime, an occasional incident like the wanton murder of a six-year-old by kidnapers interested in ransom money, the torture of babies by parents and guardians irritated by the normal behavior of the young and the casual destruction of human dignity and life itself by individuals and governments is a reminder that it is not nuclear fission which raises the greatest likelihood of human failure.

It is a combination of arrested moral development which produces myriads of outlaws to prey on decent people and the deterioration of decent people themselves under the impact of multiplying crime.

The outlaws who took the life of Bobby Greenlease had been in continuous trouble. They were chronic offenders.

They must be detected in their formative years and rehabilitated before they have a chance to commit their crimes. They must be quarantined when they turn sour—and they must be kept in quarantine until they can be turned loose in safety.

The trio of outlaws who took the life of Bobby Greenlease had been in continuous trouble. They were chronic offenders.

Society can take their lives in barren revenge. But the United States needs more than barren revenge to avert a nightmare of moral disintegration which would be worse than anything nuclear fissionists might conjure up to add to man's inhumanity to man.

Secretary of All Labor

The new secretary of labor in the Eisenhower cabinet, James P. Mitchell, has made a successful career of personnel relations. He has used his skill in both private and public employment.

If there are union executives inclined to think his appointment is "incredible," to repeat the word used by the late Sen. Taft when Martin P. Durkin was appointed to the same job, it must at least be conceded there is room for a difference of opinion.

Without knowing whether or not Mr. Mitchell fills the bill for the secretary of labor whoever has the job should be qualified to run the Department of Labor in behalf of all the people of the United States.

The department does not belong to any minority of Americans. It certainly does not belong to a minority which follows a doctrine of absolutism—"either you will be 100 per cent for us or we will be 100 per cent against you."

No department of the federal government can stand that kind of hamstringing. When Mr. Durkin resigned because his union absolutism came into conflict with the public interest, the way was open for a replacement who would work for 160 million Americans, not just for Americans who belong to labor unions.

We hope James P. Mitchell turns out to be that kind of replacement. No other kind would be worth having.

Something for the Wolves

The only odd thing about the fact 87 people, many of them public officials, were on a convict's calling list in New York's Sing Sing prison is the hue and cry against one of them.

He is Republican majority leader of the New York Senate and the acting lieutenant governor of the state. This makes him ideal wolf provender for the kind of people who sleep better if the political wolves have been appeased.

So a politician named Arthur H. Wicks will be thrown out of the sleigh because he went to see a convicted unionist-racketeer named Fay at Sing Sing. Nothing will be done about the reason he went to see Fay, which was the same reason most of Fay's other 86 callers came to see him.

He retained power, though in prison, to stop and start work on projects he controlled through his position as a union executive. He retained this power because there was no way to take it away from him even though he had been tried and convicted on charges of extortion. As in the case of the International Longshoremen's Association dominated by an individual named Ryan, one man's bad leadership of a labor union had been spiked down by laws which had, in effect, legalized personal rackets in the United States.

When Wick has been hounded out of politics, this will still be true. And it will be as useless to talk about as Wick's explanation that he called on Fay to get the latter's consent for people to work in Wick's district. A convict in Sing Sing could retain that power, thanks to legislators in Washington, Albany and many other state capitals.

Until legislators learn to distinguish between legitimate unions and rackets, the Fays and the Ryans will flourish, even in prison.

Social Security Revision

By Charles Barrett
(For James Marlow)

Administration Studies Pay-as-You-Go Plan

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congress and the Eisenhower administration are mulling over a different way of financing the vast social security retirement program.

The idea under study, so basic it could alter the whole complexion of the government's program for the aged, is called "pay as you go."

Under this system, Congress or the administration would estimate the cost of social security benefits to be paid each year and then levy a tax to pay the bill.

As Rep. Curtis (R-Neb) once put it, "When the year closes, nothing is owed and nothing is promised."

Tax rates and benefit levels might vary from year to year, depending on economic conditions, the number of persons reaching retirement age, the attitude of Congress, and so on.

Or benefit levels could be held constant, with taxes varying to produce whatever revenue is needed.

This plan, which has some influential advocates, contrasts sharply with the concept on which the social security program has been operating for the past 18 years.

The present system contemplated that relatively few persons would qualify for benefits in the first 20 to 30 years, but that eventually the number would be several times greater than now.

So it attempts to strike, far in advance, an average tax level needed to finance the program on a permanent basis. Thus the plan calls for tax income to exceed payments greatly in the early years, with this surplus piling up a reserve called the "trust fund."

Later, when the steadily increasing payments rise above tax income, interest on the trust fund is expected to bridge the gap and keep the program solvent.

Theoretically, the tax rate, the trust fund and the level of benefits eventually would remain almost constant. Actually, to avoid too sudden an impact, the tax rate is stepped up at five-year intervals until it reaches 6½ per cent of payrolls in 1970.

Congress was expected to make minor adjustments as needs developed. But the theory, at least, called for a permanent and happy state of equilibrium extending well beyond the year 2000. If a bad year cut into the trust fund, a good year would build it back.

Here are some of the arguments pro and con, which may be aired with considerable heat in Congress:

Supporters of the present system say its biggest asset is that interest from the trust fund will help keep taxes down when the program reaches full costs.

They argue "pay as you go" would produce violent ups and downs depending on the political complexion of Congress, with aged people never knowing what to expect from one year to the next.

Even if constant benefits are attempted, they contend, the tax rate would be prohibitive during unusually adverse years with large numbers of workers unemployed and not contributing, costs would be greater than normal, and there would be no reserve to fall back on.

In effect, they say, "pay as you go" is an effort to whittle down the program.

Critics say the trust fund concept attempts the impossible by trying to estimate now such things as he number of births and deaths and economic conditions in 2050.

They insist political temptation will be too great and the trust fund will be raided to provide bigger benefits for current voters, thus committing the government to a program it won't be able to sustain in the future.

They claim each new actuarial study already pictures the trust fund turning downward or exhausting itself, instead of remaining almost level. They doubt if present voters will consent to raise taxes enough to build up a trust fund for future recipients.

Two Coats To Cover

By TRUMAN TWILL

Columnist named O. O. McIntyre used to describe what his thoughts were while strolling. Surprising what will go through your mind if you leave it unlocked.

Thoughts while painting windows:

The striking resemblance between the funeral procession for the late mayor of Berlin and the funeral procession for Czechoslovakia when the Germans killed its independence before World War II.

The possibility that some day all the political mischief will have been done and citizens with more important things on their mind will tell troublemakers to go away when they pant, "Come on, suckers, let's you and him fight."

The probability that home-cooked meals will become obsolete as that goop mothers used to cook and strain for babies; that ordinary meals will be packaged and served after routine reheating.

The likelihood that before 2000 A.D. there will be an Eastern League and a Western League in big-league baseball, with the winners playing each other in the world series, because the American and National leagues now are American and National in name only.

The certainty that some day there will be a rediscovery by engineers of the possibilities of steam automobiles, which will do with vaporized water what turbojets now are doing with vaporized fuel mixed with air.

The suspicion that the most important discovery waiting to be made in the industrial era is the difference between actual and potential productivity in the most highly mechanized operations a difference so great that even a 40-hour week represents a stretch-out.

The feeling that one-platoon football really came into its own again when an Ohio State fullback fumbled a kickoff, lost the ball to California and then recovered it on the next play when California fumbled, because it was that kind of turn-about-and-fair-play that made football a great game.

The doubt that the American people would know a really great man if they saw one because they've mauled and abused their greatest ones — and that leads, in turn, to misgivings about things which some of us keep saying about some men who may turn out to be greaties.

The evidence that most of what is said for public consumption by public officials is said with a view to concealing more than is revealed.

The conviction that the cigaret business will rue the day its executives let advertising "geniuses" begin their spiel about the harmful effects of competing brands, because all brands are in competition — and fear advertising is multi-laterally hurtful.

The conviction that anyone with an alert mind with a week off to concentrate on the problem of painting could come up with something better than the standard technique of splashing it on with a brush, then having to clean out the brush. Why not a pressure can like fly spray and shaving soap, with an adjustable nozzle and a wick for spreading the paint.

And what will Marilyn Monroe look like when she gets to be middle-aged? Mmm. Spilled a little paint on the window. . .

Advice About Europe Profuse, Boring

By Raymond Moley

Our relations with the peoples, not to say governments, of Western Europe, which are fraying if not disintegrating, might be better if so many people were not trying to do something about them.

There are good-will ambassadors galore — some paid, some voluntary, some with means of publishing their opinions, and some reduced to verbal intercourse — all talking with people in Europe and then telling us what those people tell them. Every boat that returns from Europe is bulging with people who are in turn bulging with advice to us.

The interpretations run in the vein of the old refrain: "They love us; they love us not." And if my own state of mind is typical, the Americans who stay at home, are getting confused and bored at the same time.

Even experienced journalists striving to get something to write about are confusing. Take, for example, Mrs. Anne O'Hare McCormick, who writes for The New York Times.

On October 4, she had a lengthy magazine article in her paper datelined Paris. I turned to it in the hope that here at last would be something to clarify matters, something authentic and professional.

My confusion remains after two readings of the piece.

Mrs. McCormick makes the point that the French want to be independent of us, but that a poll shows that 60 per cent want an alliance with us.

She says that the Europeans copy our methods "wherever agencies like ECA and MSA have operated." But, she says, they don't like our methods and resent being prodded in the name of modernization and efficiency.

Perhaps this means that Europeans are engaged in collective self-punishment.

She says that Europeans do not resent our help, but they don't believe that we are magnanimous.

Well, nobody should have gained the idea that we were doing anything except to protect ourselves.

Most of us all along understood this matter of aid to be a means of building up Europe as a defense against Communism.

Mrs. McCormick says that McCarthyism and McCarran and "book burning" greatly concern Europeans.

Incidentally, if the President didn't know what he meant by "book burning," perhaps Mrs. McCormick doesn't either. It would appear that she indulges in wishful thinking about what Europeans think about McCarthy.

She says that "next to Eisenhower's, Sen. McCarthy's is the best known American name in Europe." But the survey of the French by the magazine "Realities" which Mrs. McCormick quotes, says that only 18 per cent of those interviewed knew who McCarthy was. John Steinbeck and John L. Lewis rated higher in the survey.

Our correspondent, Mrs. McCormick, stoutly maintains that we should accept the right of Europeans to criticize us, but declares they don't really mean what they say.

When they say bad things about us, she says, they really mean that they want to be independent.

This American reader's comment on that point is that if they want to be independent, why don't they say so and then do something about it?

When a grown daughter tells her mother that she wants to be independent, the mother says that the best way to independence is to go to work or to marry a man with a paying job.

Mrs. McCormick tells us that we ought to be humble.

She also points out that the French like us better than they like any other people except the Swiss. So maybe if we just let their minds alone, everything would be all right.

Since the Swiss seem to have won first place, it should be noted that the Swiss never gave the French anything.

The Old Ice Box

By Frank Tripp

Yes sir, we sure have it tough, the present generation. Our hardships are heartbreaking; such as having to defrost the refrigerator or wind the thermostat clock. Life is just one dreary drill of dull drudgery.

Our plight suggests the relativity of things. We stay satisfied with our comforts until comes an improvement in them, and the Joneses get one; some new gadget that saves a little more work. The refrigerator is a good example.

REMEMBER THE old ice box? The first one I saw was just an oblong wooden chest, stuffed with sawdust between a lumber jacket and a zinc lining. It opened all across the top. A hunk of ice, 50 to 100 pounds, was dropped in it by the ice man, who left his tracks and drippings across the porch and kitchen floor. Mother followed him with a mop.

Every time before he came the ice box had to be emptied and scoured of the grit and grime of the last filling of roily ice, cut from a polluted stream in which the kids, rats, snakes and bullfrogs had spent the summer.

MOTHER WAS wild about her ice box just the same. It was such an improvement over packing the butter and milk in a bucket and lowering them into the well; and lugging fruit, vegetables and leftovers from the cold cellar.

The "pond ice" reigned until came the marvel of the age; manufactured ice in clean, clear cakes that left no mess behind them. But that was around 60 cents a hundred, compared to 40 for the natural.

It took months to sell pop on the expenditure. He fell when his pals told about dropping hunks of the new ice right into the water pitcher—or maybe it wasn't the water pitcher.

The ultimate had arrived, ice that could be safely and palatably eaten by others than the street gamins who stalked the ice wagons. Also a vertical ice box had appeared that actually had shelves, like the pantry. Things were getting mighty modern.

YET ALL ice melts, and the diehards claimed the artificial melted faster; "wasn't as cold." So the drip pan still was under the ice box and had to be emptied once a day, twice in hot spells.

Then what do you think Out comes an ice box that makes its own cold, freezes ice right in your kitchen. Unbelievable, still there it was; the Joneses had one. By then Fanny and I were married, but couldn't have the new contraption. We had gas lights, no electricity.

Suddenly emptying the ice pan became unbearable drudgery, fit for no woman. And somehow an awful lot of food began to spoil in "that woman killer of ours."

So we went in hock for electric wiring and one of those electric ice makers; which to this day every woman will tell you is the last electrical apparatus with which she'd part.

THE PONDEROUS generator was in the cellar, piped upstairs to a unit put in our wooden ice box where the ice cakes had been. It cost within $100 what our Model T cost.

Marvelous! No ice man, no tracked floors, no drip pan to empty. All we need do was defrost every few days, which the ads said is "no trick at all, really a pleasure; just turn this switch and empty this handy glass tray. No fishing underneath for an overflowing drip pan." The thing worked swell for some 12 years.

WE'VE HAD others since, each with new wonders to behold. We never wore one out. Every change has been because the foxy producers added something to make women dissatisfied with what they had.

Right now it's automatic defrosting that we're shy. If the guys who write the ads will spend one defrosting day at our house they'll get enough ideas to last 'em a year. I've heard so many arguments on "why we need" that I'm hanging on the ropes, about to take the count.

Shortly after 1900 the Emergency Hospital was built on E. Center St. by Dr. Horatio Chisholm. The building was of concrete block, two stories high and boasted of an electric elevator operating between the floors. The operating and treatment rooms were equipped with the latest and best appointments for the treatment of medical and surgical cases. Staffed with skillful physicians and an efficient corps of trained nurses, the aim of the institution was to supply a first class hospital service to people of the city and county.

No Ambulance Needed

IDAHO FALLS, Idaho (AP)—Three cars tangled on a highway and the driver of one of them looked into one of the other cars and called an ambulance.

There was blood all around, he thought.

It turned out that no one was seriously hurt and Mrs. Darwin Champion was even able to smile through tears as she wiped red paint from a spilled can from her hair.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

So This Is 'The Sport of Kings'

Horse racing, which, goodness knows, needs good publicity as it seldom needed it in the past, ran a bad last to "Big Heartedness," "Common Sense," "Intelligent Public Relations" "Normal Smartness" last week. And its able press agents must have winced with public-relations experts in all fields when the Sport of Kings let Earl Sande, one of its immortals, risk life and limb in his declining years by a return to the saddle for a little loose change.

"Honest Bread" (the that for irony) was the horse Sande, wrinkled, gray and long out of practice, rode and we wish the top powers in a sport involving millions of dollars and loaded with millionaires had given a little thought to butter (Maybe even an extra patty. And a warm "Be my guest," instead of chilly indifference.)

Here was the Sport of Kings advertising to the world that it could not afford to make a place in its operations anywhere for one of its all-time "greats."

In countless homes where Sande's performances through the years were treasured memories, hearts skipped a beat at the news that his illustrious figure had gone to the post in his later years on a cheap horse to pick up a few dollars. But if any concern was shown or a tear shed, by any of racing's big men it wasn't noticeable.

Maybe Sandre, who rode Man O'War, Gallant Fox, Zev and many of the great horses of the roaring 20's and the sobering 30's, has saved money, isn't in need of an "assist" and returns to the saddle on a flaming yen for the oldtime glories.

He is no guy to ask charity even if he needed it. Nevertheless, a sport which ripples with rich men, let itself get some extra bad publicity.

If it had ever thought of a job for one of its most inspiring figures, or given a hoot what happened to him, it kept it a secret from a public that felt sad to see the hero of Runyon's "Never a hands guy like Sande violin' them winners home" out there in the pack of 14 steel-hooved nonwinning skinners against the hardest-riding youngsters in the business.

The thought must have occurred to everyone: What if this grand guy of sports-world history should go down under the thdding hooves? Wouldn't the ambulance bearing him off a track have been a black mark against racing?

Would any amount of money saved by the "kings" offset the discrediting news item "Earl Sande, winner of Derbies, triple crowns and many classics of the American turf, an inspirational figure in the thoroughbred world, was killed today making a comeback at 54."

How dumb can those racing biggies get? Racing has been getting itself a bad press. Does it want to go for double or nothing?

Gov. Earl Warren of California got knighted on the Supreme Court about the same moment Carl Erskine got benched by the "Bums." In the case of a tie in future high court decisions, we hope the governor's three daughters are called in to settle the issue.

Ezzra Benson says America is "eating its way out of the beef problem." That's what we call overestimating the power of a hamburger with onions in any crisis.

Sam Levenson's superb crack on the influence of video on the American home: "If you find a house pitch dark today you know the family is HOME."

How does Florence Chadwick feel when she runs up against a sign "NO SWIMMING"?

U.S. Delegates Set To Debate U.N. Charter

Gov. Byrnes Will Act As Spokesman During Battle Over Revisions

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—The U. S. delegation in the United Nations began pointing today for debate on proposals to revise the U. N. Charter. South Carolina's Gov. James F. Byrnes was set as principal U. S. spokesman on the major East-West dispute.

Byrnes returned from a weekend trip home to renew consideration of an allied subject—admission of new members—in the Special Political Committee this afternoon (3 p. m. EST). The delegation was looking for that question to be finished by midweek, with Byrnes then moving to the Assembly's Legal Committee to handle the charter revision item.

The big question on revising the charter, whether to hold a special conference on the topic will not be decided until the 1955 assembly.

But to be prepared for that, The Netherlands, Argentina and Egypt all have suggested that this year's Assembly start preparatory work to get all the documents in order and to find out whether most countries incline toward favoring a conference.

The Soviet bloc already has loudly denounced even this preliminary move. Attacked for its heavy use of the veto in keeping out non-Communist membership applicants, the Russians have charged that charter revision is only a plot to weaken Soviet veto power in the Security Council.

U. S. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles told the Assembly in a speech Sept. 17 that the United States not only favors the preparatory moves, but will have a number of changes to suggest in the charter drawn up in 1945.

The charter itself authorize a review of its provisions in 1955.

Corn Meal Liver Loaf Is Easy To Prepare

It is always more of a pleasure to cook in cool weather, when family appetites are again big enough to do justice to a homemaker's efforts.

Still, a busy housewife needs some dishes in her menu that are quick and easy to prepare, for she manages to be a busy person all the time.

Corn Meal Liver Loaf meets all requirements for an easy meal that will satisfy huge appetites and provide body-building nourishment. It is easy to prepare, and the corn meal adds flavor that will please the entire family.

Use 1½ pounds beef or pork liver, sliced, 4 slices bacon, ¼ cup grated onion, 1 cup milk, ½ cup catsup, 1 teaspoon powdered sage, 2 wheat bisuits or 2 slices bread, crumbled, ¾ cup corn meal or self rising corn meal, 3 well beaten eggs, salt and pepper, 4-8 slices bacon.

Wipe liver with damp cloth, cover with boiling water and let stand five minutes. Drain and put liver and 4 slices bacon through food grinder, using fine knife. Add remaining ingredients except bacon, mixing thoroughly. Line 8 - inch square pan with bacon slices, cover with meat mixture, and arrange bacon slices on top if desired. Bake in a moderate oven, 325 F., about one hour. Yield! 6 servings.

Bing Crosby Hurt In Crash, Smashes Up His $12,250 Car

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Bing Crosby is nursing a wrenched back today after a traffic accident that injured three other persons, one critically.

The crooner was driving his $12,250 German car, a pale ivory Mercedes-Benz, when the collision with another automobile occurred early yesterday at an intersection.

Three persons in the other car were taken to Queen of Angels Hospital. Frank Verdugo, 32, a Los Angeles city fireman, suffered critical head injuries, the hospital reported. His wife Lucy, 28, suffered face cuts and bruises and a possible broken nose. Eulalio Perea, 5, Verdugo's brother-in-law escaped with minor injuries.

Crosby's car was badly smashed. California Highway Patrolman W. L. Koehler said Crosby was driving alone at the time and after the accident complained that his back hurt. The singer's brother Larry said Crosby was in pretty good condition but was to be given a checkup by his physician.

The highway patrolman said Crosby told him: "I looked both ways, saw no cars and started across the intersection. There was a crash and I lost control."

"In this number of miles (929,000), we have not 'knocked out' either a rod or main bearing, have not replaced a clutch in any of these cars, and have not replaced a drive shaft or rear end."

Other make failed!

"During the period September, 1950 to April, 1951, I tried one of the 'Big Three' on this job and in a period of 60,000 miles we replaced one clutch, and all bearings in rear end and transmission.

"There may be other makes that will do as well for us, but I doubt that any will do better than the eight Kaisers we have used and our present Kaiser."

Firemen Called Out Five Times Over Weekend

Little Damage Results; Chief Cites Danger of Burning Trash, Weeds

Marion firemen were called out to five minor fires over the weekend and Fire Chief Owen A. Sifritt today cautioned Marionites to be extra careful while burning weeds, trash or leaves. Four of the fires were of this nature.

"With all the dry weather and winds we are having, I don't see why some people insist on starting outdoor fires," he said. He pointed out that dryness, wind, and fire make a hard-to-control combination. "No one seems to realize the danger until a fire is out of control," he said.

He asked that all outdoor fires be watched closely and be put out immediately if they look like they might get out of control.

Auto Seat Burns

Only one fire over the week end resulted in damage. A discarded cigarette accidentally set fire to the front seat of a car owned by W. A Parmer parked in front of his residence at 782 York St. at 925 p.m. Saturday. Firemen estimated the loss at $15. Firemen from the W. Center St. station answered the call.

The Marion Township fire truck was called out from the Mark St. station to the Edward Briggs farm on Crissinger Rd. at 7:18 p.m. last night. A tree was burning and when firemen arrived was nearly burned down. They did not attempt to put the fire out. It was not known how the tree caught fire.

At 1:50 p.m. yesterdya the township truck was called out to the State Highway Garage on W. Fairground St. when a grass fire set in a neighboring field by Bernard Simmons of 436 W. Fairground caught some discarded wooden cinder-spreaders at the edge of an equipment parking lot on fire. Firemen said no loss was reported.

Grass Fire on Main St.

The township truck was also used to put out a grass fire at the rear of the Glen Walraven Tractor Sales lot on N. Main St. along the Pennsylvania Railroad right of way at 1 40 p.m. Saturday. The fire apparently was set by sparks from a passing locomotive, firemen said. No loss was reported.

Some children playing with matches apparently caused a grass fire at the rear of 1025 Uncapher Ave at 5:16 p.m. Saturday. Firemen from the W. Center St. station answered the call and reported no loss from the blaze.

ing reprisal on any aggressor" who dares attack, he said, adding:

"But is our existing atomic and hydrogen effort big enough and bold enough to answer the challenge of the hour? My own reply is no. . . .

He urged "a hydrogen effort comparable in scale, dollars, resources, daring and speed to our entire atomic effort of World War II."

Cole said that "Perhaps . . .the most ominous point of all" about the Soviet H-bomb test is this:

"It more and more appears that the harnessing of hydrogen energy for military uses may be far easier than was commonly supposed a few years ago.

"If hydrogen weapons could be manufactured only at great cost, and with great effort, we might console ourselves with the notion that the Soviets could manufacture these dreadful weapons only in small quantities.

"But I fear the real facts are quite otherwise."

He first met with South Korean President Syngman Rhee in Seoul, then went to the Allied base camp at Munsan for conferences with Allied officers over the postponed "explanations" to reluctant POWs.

Spokesmen for the repatriation commission remained silent, but these signs pointed to a break in the dispute that has stalled the start of explanations since Sept.26:

Ready To Concede

1. The Communist Peiping radio said the Reds are "willing to make concessions" and start interviewing the 22,600 anti-Communist POWs Wednesday in an effort to persuade them to accept repatriation.

2. The Indian command said the rules for "explanations" had been read to all the POWs. Last week an Indian spokesman said the reading of the rules would be held up until just a few days before the interviews were to start.

"Then I was heading back to Pennsylvania."

The two picked up with Wable were Marvin H. Parson and a 17-year-old boy. Both gave their addresses as California, but would give no home town.

Alleged Bandits

The trio was arrested in Belen—about 30 miles south of Albuquerque—after allegedly robbing a gas station in Albuquerque. State Patrolman T. J. Chavez said they outdistanced him on the straight stretch leading into Belen but were finally stopped by Belen city police at a road block.

Capt. Jack R. Dodson of the Pennsylvania state police said plans were being made to fly Pennsylvania officers to New Mexico immediately. Wable told New Mexico police he would waive extradition.

A few days after the double murder, John K. Shepard, 34, West Alexander, Pa., was shot in the head as he slept in his truck on the turnpike. He is recovering.

A watch stolen from Shepard put police on Wable's trail. He was identified as the man who hocked the watch in a Cleveland pawn shop. Wable had been working in an industrial plant there.

Soviets Enter Picture

In another diplomatic aspect of the situation, the new Soviet ambassador here, Vassily A. Valkov, called on Deputy Foreign Minister Ales Bebler to discuss Trieste. Earlier Bebler had summoned Sir William and Wallner to the Yugoslav foreign ministry to receive the Yugoslav note.

A U. S. protest against the attack on the diplomatic official evoked a reply that Yugoslavia could not guarantee the safety of 200 Americans living in Belgrade.

The new violence came in the wake of a speech by President Tito yesterday in which he told a crowd in Macedonia he would send Yugoslavia's American - equipped troops into the British-American Zone A of Trieste "the moment" Italy sends occupying forces into the area.

Kidnaping

took Hall into custody a week ago. The station wagon, Hoover said, also had blood stains.

Hoover said when Hall and Mrs. Heady were confronted with this evidence, they then made their confession to the FBI.

Earlier Confession

In an earlier confession, shortly after his arrest, Hall admitted abducting the boy but declared Tom Marsh, 37, an ex-convict, had killed Bobby.

Hoover said Hall has now absolved Marsh of any connection with the crime. Mrs. Heady confirms Hall's present story, Hoover said.

As a result the FBI is making no search for Marsh.

Hoover's announcement said nothing as to the $300,000 of ransom money still unaccounted for.

Bobby's wealthy parents paid $600,000 to the kidnapers.

Hall had a little less than half of this in his possession when arrested.

His story at that time was that he got drunk and must have lost a suitcase containing half the ransom money.

Hoover said the federal kidnaping charges are being filed at Kansas City.

gave Colonial Governor Sir Alfred Savage wide emergency powers.

The surprise move astonished the colony but was carried out without disorder. The U. S. government emphatically approved the British action.

It also won support from the strong-man leader of Jamaica's laborers—Prime Minister William Alexander Bustamante.

To Get No Sympathy

Bustamante, whose voice is influential throughout the Indies, said in Kingston the Guiana leaders could expect no sympathy from the free-thinking world. However, if they had been fighting for self-rule "within the democratic nations" Bustamante declared, "I would have paralyzed the entire country (Jamaica) to help Guiana."

Cooperation On Aid Asked By Sparkman

Other Nations Should Contribute More, He Tells World Meeting

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen Sparkman (D-Ala) told legislators from 32 nations today that other countries should contribute more to international programs of technical and financial aid

Thus far the United States has "picked up most of the check," he said, but improved economic conditions within other nations require them to put up a larger share of the cost now for "genuine international collaboration."

Sparkman made his statements in a speech prepared for the conference of the Interparliamentary Union, being held in the House of Representatives chamber. He was the second U. S. delegate to raise the question of American aid abroad.

Sen. Gore (D-Tenn) last Saturday called on free world nations to explain why they could not assume a greater share of mutual defense costs.

Gore told the assembly the American people want "satisfactory answers," and unless these were, forthcoming Congress would be unable to justify the necessity of large foreign aid apropriations every year.

Sparkman, in urging larger foreign contributions to technical assistance programs, said he doubted the job could be done by private agencies. Governmental participation is "imperative," he declared.

"Such programs in the long run promise more positive results at the least cost in the fight against communism than anything we can do," he said.

Jackie Robinson of the Brooklyn Dodgers played five different positions during the 1953 season. He played all four infield spots and left field.

These Days

By George Sokolsky

Somebody started a lot of talk about a depression being on its way. As far back as 1946, there was talk about a postwar depression. It did not take place. Then the soothsayers, politicians and world-planners had it fixed for 1948 It did not take place.

SOKOLSKY

Now the talk is that a depression is not only on its way but is already scratching at our door. Whether this is the talk of partisans or of frightened businessmen, or of statisticians who live by figures alone, it is not based upon the state of the nation

After every war, an inevitable relapse from excessive production of commodities needed for war takes place. In war, such production means that employment is not only at total capacity but there is even a labor shortage Wages are high, overtime is plentiful War production is wasteful, at it must be During such a period, production, even of consumers' goods, moves rapidly because the houriy-rate laborer rises to the level of a middle-class consumer.

THEN COMES peace. Except for long-term defense planning, war production is cut back. After World War II, the slack was taken up by the demand for new automobiles, refrigerators, radios, television, and all sorts of commodities

Also, there was a great demand for new housing, for road-building and other public works. The Korean war and European military aid stimulated production to a degree, but these factors also increased the inflationary trend to a danger point, the dollar going down to close to 50 cents in value.

Now we are faced by the necessity of strengthening the American dollar and of readjusting to a peacetime economy. This involves a slowing up of production. Certain consumer goods, such as agricultural machinery, and hard white goods, such as refrigerators, are moving more slowly. The building boom has slowed somewhat.

These are not necessarily signs of a depression. They are the correct adjustments in the market after a period of war production and a postwar boom. We cannot, as a nation, engage in war in which our sons are killed for no better reason than to keep our production in boom activity.

DURING A WAR period, plant is always expanded beyond normal necessities to meet the destructive demands of defense. The risk, in such a period, is that there will never be enough shot and shell to defeat the enemy. Peace usually comes suddenly and production has to be cut back suddenly. There is no advantage in using up our natural resources for goods that will never be used, stockpiling just to keep going at a specific but uneconomical rate.

In economic terms, the various aids to Europe and Asia, since World War II ended, must be regarded as a free export of American commodities In this manner, perhaps as much as $50,000,000,000 of the product of American mine, farm and factory was transferred out of the country. In normal times, this is regarded as a dumping process.

While such aid was at first welcomed in any form, it is today often regarded as an inflationary factor and is being resisted. In Europe, the trend is to increase productivity at home, with or without American aid.

WHILE THIS country continues to expend enormously for the national defense, the amount does not and cannot compare with wartime expenditures and the taxpayer does not want it to. Therefore, the cutbacks will increase as the approach to a realistic peace is more sure. This is plain common sense and ought to be welcomed by everybody, because if the measures now being taken result in a sounder dollar, everybody will be better off.

A depression is nearly always the result of a lack of confidence in the future. The people become panicky. This is particularly true with "soft" money countries; that is, money that is not secured on gold and therefore fluctuates radically in value.

There is no justification for such a loss of confidence at the present time in the United States. Actually if the program to restore the value of money, to balance the budget and to reduce taxes shows real progress, economic conditions in this country can improve during the next two years What is most required for success is confidence in the country and its wholesome program of readjustment.

VACCINE PERFECTED. Dr. James E. Salk of the University of Pittsburgh announced in Miami, Fla., the perfection of an experimental polio vaccine to a point justifying nationwide vaccination tests.

Accidents and Injuries On Increase in Marion

The number of persons hurt in traffic accidents and total number of accidents in Marion through September of this year ran well ahead of the total for the same period last year.

In a monthly summary of city traffic accidents issued today by Police Chief Tom Coon, it is reported there were 95 persons hurt in 884 accidents this year while during the same nine months last year there were only 82 persons hurt in 778 mishaps.

Through September last year, two persons had been killed in city traffic. This year only one person has been killed.

ACROSS THE COUNTER

The other night a friend and I were visiting and he asked about "complete" auto insurance protection. He had reference to the various coverages which are available in an auto policy.

Earl J. Andrews

But it's like I remarked to him, "Complete auto insurance protection starts BEFORE the policy is even in force. First of all to have real protection, you have to know that the insurance company is financally sound, and that it meets its claims fairly. It should be the kind of company that will not cause you embarassment, ill feelings, and perhaps financial loss through hedging and stalling actions. You see, auto insurance is NOT as closely regulated as fire insurance. Therefore, it is important that you know how the company operates."

To make the matter simpler, choose an agency in whom you have confidence. Their recommendation probably will be a sound, reliable company.

At least, we know that is true at our agency. We can assure "complete" auto insurance by insisting on a good company, and explaining all phases of the various coverages available.

Why not start HERE? We'd be glad to help you find the right kind of auto insurance protection.

By Victor Riesel

From here to eternity may be only three years, according to Defense Secretary Charles Wilson, who believes the Soviets are some 36 months behind us in the development of a "droppable" H-Bomb. But, if Mr. Wilson reads some of the intelligence reports on Italy's virtually unknown, high-powered, Communist-infiltrated atomic and thermo-nuclear labs, our Defense Secretary will see that it is later than he thinks

RIESEL

On the possibility that he has not been provided with such reports, I want here to rip the lid off these research centers which have led the world in the development of nuclear weapons, much to the surprise of the public, which believes that the U S. is the veteran in this ghastly explosive field.

—:—

THESE ITALIAN labs were the first to develop the atomic bomb disintegration principle. They were then, and are now, infiltrated by secret Soviet agents—and at least several pro-Soviet scientists.

Yet these centers, the newest of which are being completed at Turin, in the heart of Communist labor strength, and in the pine woods at San Rossore, between Pisa and Communist - controlled Leghorn, are the pivotal points of a huge pool of European atomic and thermo-nuclear knowledge.

Participants in this pool, officially called the European Council for Nuclear Research, are Belgium, Denmark, France, Italy, Greece, Norway, Holland, Western Germany, Sweden, Switzerland, and Tito's Yugoslovia Britain does not belong officially, but participates at its supposedly ultra-secret sessions through an accredited representative who sits in as an observer. This man has brought back to a spy-infested British A and H-bomb research center all our latest secrets.

HOW? BECAUSE the U S gives a considerable amount of its newest data to the council and permits council members to come here for consultation or actually to assist in experimentation. Obviously, Rome's importance as an atomic studies headquarters is all supreme .

I ran into this nest this summer when I worked with the leaders of the anti-Communist Italian labor movement on studies of the use of atomic energy for industrial purposes. The labor leaders there are concerned because of the possible displacement of tens of thousands of workers in the big power and fuel fields.

Similar concern, incidentally, is felt by John Lewis here at home, because one pound of uranium, a cube one inch long, has the energy equivalent of 2,700,000 pounds of coal.

This summer, the first of August to be exact, I was startled to learn that the U. S. had just deposited some $18,000 in a bank account for a Soviet spy, Bruno Pontecorvo Comrade Bruno now is in the recesses of Western China, developing not only "droppable" H-Bombs, but cosmic ray weapons, too Pontecorvo got this money when we paid a group of seven Italian scientists $300,000 in royalties for a special process they had developed making possible the first ancient A-Bomb. The group, which sold its patent to the U. S years ago, included Bruno Pontecorvo They worked at the time at the Marconi Institute in Rome.

SPY-COMRADE PONTECORVO then went to work for the British at Harwell, along with the other spy-comrade, Klaus Fuchs. Then Bruno used an aerial "underground," if you'll permit me the phrase, to escape into Russia wth all his secrets. But he did leave behind him, in the Italian labs, many close friends.

They, and others he did not know, have seeped into the entire network of Italian experimentation, much of which is done by a quasi-public outfit known as the Italian Center for Nuclear Energy Studies (CISE), affiliated with the European pool mentioned above.

The European pool headquarters is in Rome. Its secretary is Prof. Edoardo Amaldi of the University of Rome, who also directs the Marconi Institute. He is also a leader in the CISE. He has no political affiliations—but his principal, aide is Prof Bellaro, named by the Giorno Illustrato, a prominent Rome publication, as pro-Communist.

Also working for CISE is a Prof. Panzini, who writes for the Vie Nuove (New Lives), an official Communist weekly magazine

AND INFORMED sources report that at least a third of the young assistants at the Marconi Institute, Pontecorvo's old lab, are notorious members and sympathizers of the all-powerful Italian Communist Party.

The Italian military intelligence people know that many who work on the most delicate research in these labs are often in contact with the Street of Obscure Shops (Via Botteghe Oscure).

This is the national headquarters of the Communist Party. Run for the shelters. It's later than you think.

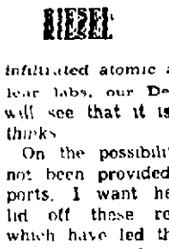
Yac-Yac Stopper

By Inez Robb

Remember Archimedes? He stepped into his bath, discovered one of the fundamental laws of physics i.e. that the bath tub is the most deadly invention of man, and yelled "Eureka!"



INEZ ROBB

Today, I echo the ancient philosopher, I cry "Eureka!" over an accidental discovery that may in time mean more to the comfort of the average man and woman than Archimedes.

In years to come, admiring throngs may point me out as the individual who finally discovered the key to silencing patrons of the theater, whether movie or living, who yap, yap, yap all during a performance to the homicid ' despair of their neighbors.

IT HAPPENED this way: I went the other day to a Broadway matinee. In this neck of the woods, mere attendance at a matinee is known as the fate worse than death

Matinees have earned this reputation because the audience is largely made up of suburban housewives who come in bevies of two to six

They find the theater a wonderful place to take the weight off their feet after a hard bout of morning shopping and a splendid backdrop for chit-chat.

Naturally, they have a great deal to talk about — and they do— as they have scarcely seen each other since they played bridge together the night before.

A great deal can happen in that interim in the suburbs You know. Joe chasing the baby-sitter; Mary getting fried and pinching the butler, and what the Harveys are going to do with that adolescent boy of theirs before it's too late

—:—

ON THIS particular afternoon I was wearing a kind of velvet beanie on the back of my head. something you call a hat only out of deference for what it cost.

But manners are manners. Before the play began, I told the suburban lass behind me that I would gladly remove the hat if it interfered with her view of the proceedings

She decided that it did So down went my hat just as the curtain and her voice went up. Her companions', too

Let me tell you Conditions up around Stamford, Conn , are such that I couldn't tell where juvenile delinquency left off and the old folks took over! High living, low thinking and simply barrels of fun'

HOWEVER, I still wanted to hear what was going on up there on the stage But the actors and I were licked from the start. By the end of the first act, I was wondering what would happen if I used my death - ray disintegrator gun on these public nuisances and then threw myself on the mercy of the court.

Then I noticed my velvet beanie, there on my lap, and the great idea was born. While the curtain was up and the ladies were yapping in the lounge, I slapped the beanie back on my head.

When the curtain call sounded and the ladies trooped into the row behind me, my Stamford chum leaned over and asked me to please remove my hat again, just as I had hoped she would.

THAT WAS my cue to turn around and say sweetly, in ringing tones "I shall be happy to make a bargain. I'll cut out the hat if you'll cut out the chatter!"

There was a little light applause on either side of me, as the curtain went up again and silenced blanketed the girls in back.

The moral of this is that I have just ordered a new hat, strictly for the theater. It is a cartwheel, covered with willow plumes

I figure my troubles are over, at least with the rear row. Now, has anyone in the congregation any ideas about what to do if the neighbors to the side or in front get gabby?

WHITE CROSS Sending Out FREE Information in Nation-Wide Drive

Are You Protected Against Doctor and Hospital Bills

...as completely and at such low cost as the 5 million people now under the WHITE CROSS PLAN?

[INDIVIDUALS AND FAMILIES ARE ELIGIBLE—NO PHYSICAL EXAMINATION REQUIRED
COMPARE THIS PLAN WITH ANY OTHER PLAN IN EXISTENCE]

THIS happens every day. A family is getting along fine . . . making ends meet, planning for the future. Then suddenly, an unexpected sickness or accident brings a pile of doctor and hospital bills. Savings that took years to build up are wiped out in weeks. The family is forced to borrow so heavily it will take them quite some time before they can start saving for the future again.

Don't let this tragedy happen to you. Under WHITE CROSS, the famous low-cost plan, you can protect your whole family against doctor and hospital bills for just a few pennies a day!

No wonder over 5 MILLION PEOPLE have turned to WHITE CROSS—making it the fastest-growing health protection plan in existence. Last year alone, Bankers Life & Casualty Company paid out $33 MILLION to its policy holders.

Compare WHITE CROSS point by point with any other plan you have ever heard of. You can get the complete plan or any part of it. (See list below). Then rush coupon at bottom of page for fuller details on cash benefits and WHITE CROSS' low rates for individuals and family groups.

OPERATIONS

Under the WHITE CROSS PLAN, you can get $5.00 to $250.00 for operations . . . for each member of your family . . . for each different sickness or accident.

It is impossible here to list all the operations which the Plan covers. Virtually every known form of surgery is listed . . . from stitching a simple wound (at the doctor's office or in your home) to the most complicated forms of brain surgery. And to allow for unique or new operations, it is provided as follows, "For any operation not specified, the Company will pay the fee provided for any operation of comparable gravity and severity." You see, the widest possible protection at low cost is always the aim under the WHITE CROSS PLAN.

Just a Few of the Operations for Which Payment is Provided Under The Plan

Cutting into abdomen for diagnosis or treatment
Abscess of the brain
Amputations of legs, arms or fingers
Appendix, removal of Brain tumor
Breast removal or removal of cyst or tumor on breast
Kidney removal
Removal of stone or tumor from kidney or urinary tract
Prostate operation
Removal of tube or ovary
Goitre operations
Lung removal
Cutting into chest for diagnosis or treatment
Tumors (cancerous and benign) — removal of
Varicose Veins, treatment by cutting or injection
Operations to reduce dislocations of hip, knee, shoulder, jaw, finger, etc.
Removal of shoulder or hip joint or removal of diseased portion of the bone
Mastoid operations
Tonsil removal
Adenoid removal
Sinus operations
Hernia, single or double
Hemorrhoids (Piles)—cutting operation for radical cure
Eye operations for removal of cataracts, etc.
Fractures, simple or compound, to legs, arms, wrist, finger, nose, skull, etc.
Gall Bladder operation
Spine operations
Circumcision
Removal of Uterus
. . . and many more

HOSPITAL ROOM & MEALS

up to $1,500.00 for each different sickness or accident

Under the WHITE CROSS PLAN, you can get from $4 to $15 per day for 100 days for hospital room and meals each time someone in your family goes to the hospital. This is not a yearly allowance but rather the amount which is allowed for each different sickness or accident to each different member of your family. Needless to say, in case of a family accident this could add up to a very large sum . . . a sum which no ordinary family could pay out of its own savings.

And, remember, one person in every 2 families will need hospital care this year.

X-RAYS, DRUGS, CARDIOGRAMS

Hospital benefits do not stop at mere room and meals. Under this famous low-cost plan, you can also get cash for many other hospital expenses for which you might not expect to be covered. You can get paid for operating room charges, anesthetics, X-rays, drugs, dressings. And you are even given an allowance for electrocardiograms for heart examinations as provided in policy.

FIRST AID & OTHER OUT-PATIENT BENEFITS

Under the WHITE CROSS PLAN, you DON'T have to be a bed patient or stay overnight to receive hospitalization benefits. X-rays and laboratory tests as well as medical treatment and operations are all covered, even though you do not remain in the hospital that night. Furthermore, Bankers Life & Casualty Company will pay the cost of emergency treatment (as specified) for any accidents even though no hospital residence is established.

CHILDREN'S AILMENTS

Under the WHITE CROSS PLAN, it is easy to include children in the family's original plan and also to add children as they are born. It is very wise to do this. The cost is very little. And the benefits can be very great. Children need medical care so often for childhood diseases, tonsil and adenoid operations, and what-not. Hospital room and meals cost just as much for a child as for an adult, you know. So do X-rays, laboratory tests, and such things. Yet, these are all covered under the WHITE CROSS PLAN.

AMBULANCE, BLOOD TRANSFUSIONS

If you have had to pay a hospital bill recently, you know that there are many items you did not anticipate . . . items that run up a hospital bill. Under the WHITE CROSS PLAN, every effort is made to cover these items. Not only is there money allowed for ambulance service, iron lung, blood transfusions, oxygen . . . but there is even a cash allowance up to $25 for "any other necessary hospital expense."

POLIO

With new treatment, many patients can look forward to recovery with no crippling after-effects. You can also get WHITE CROSS protection that provides money for this modern treatment, use of iron lung, etc.

DOCTOR VISITS— even for ordinary sickness

Under the WHITE CROSS PLAN, you get up to $150.00 (depending on the number of doctor visits) for each member of your family and for each different sickness or accident, where the doctor treats you, at your home, his office—or the hospital.

CHILDBIRTH BENEFITS

Under the WHITE CROSS PLAN, you can get (after you have been a member for 9 months) hospital expenses up to 10 times your daily hospital rate for childbirth or any complication of pregnancy.

Leg Crushed—Gets $680.00

"Little did I realize when I took out your Hospital Expense protection . . . that just a little over a month later I would be in an accident . . . My right leg was crushed between two mine cars. Your company to date paid me a total of $680.00 on my claim."

Peter Zulick, St. Clair, Pa.

FEMALE DISORDERS

WHITE CROSS protection is wide and varied. Under the WHITE CROSS PLAN, you can get cash paid direct to you for treatment of female disorders or urinary ailments (after six months), varicose veins, and other quite common treatments that can run up sizeable doctor bills.

MONEY TO LIVE ON

when you're laid up and can't work

Perhaps you've said this to yourself: "I wish I could be sure of a certain amount of money each month even when I'm laid up and unable to work." This is well worth thinking about. For, after all, at such times even though your earnings do not continue—you still have to meet payments for rent, food, clothing, gas and electricity, time payments on the car, and so on. Very often these bills become a mental burden to the person who is laid up and it makes it hard for him to concentrate on getting well.

WHITE CROSS saves you this worry

Under the WHITE CROSS PLAN, you can get up to $300.00 a month while in the hospital and up to $200.00 a month while you're at home getting well. In cases of extended illness or serious injury, this money often spells the difference between a family saved and a family deep in debt.

Gets Paid for Third Operation

"I'm out of the hospital and feeling fine again and even have my peace of mind thanks to Bankers Life & Casualty Co. who paid me my third surgery. Without this insurance, we would surely be in debt. My thanks to all of your company."

Genevieve L. Lenfert, Kankakee, Illinois

PROTECTS YOUR WHOLE FAMILY FOR A FEW PENNIES A DAY

Under the WHITE CROSS PLAN — the low-cost plan — you can protect your whole family against doctor and hospital bills for just a few pennies a day. That's for everyone—the children and all.

Although low in cost, the WHITE CROSS PLAN represents good cash benefits and good service. This low-cost, quick-pay policy has helped make it the fastest-growing health-protection plan in the entire world.

You May Choose Any Doctor or Hospital

You enjoy the utmost freedom under the WHITE CROSS PLAN. You are not limited to a few doctors or hospitals. Any accredited physician may treat you and you may use any hospital, large or small, and receive full benefits under the plan.

NO RED TAPE

- Money is paid to your hospital, your doctor, or you — as you direct.
- You don't have to join a group or go through red tape.
- No pro-rating—you get the full amount even if claim is covered by Workmen's Compensation or other insurance.
- You don't have to be a bed-patient to collect hospital benefits.
- You can get as little or as much protection as you want.

More Than Covers Cost of Operation

"I am writing to acknowledge your checks for my son's operations. We were very thrilled to have your policy pay us in full for this operation; in fact, a few dollars more. We have had many insurance policies and they have never satisfied us as your policy has. Thank you for the promptness and friendly way you handled this matter."

Arthur Lautner, St. Louis, Missouri

Receives $259.00 for Hospital Expenses

"I want to express my deepest appreciation for the claim of $259 for hospital bills which has been received. If I could only find words to help others receive the same wonderful benefits offered through your hospitalization that I have received. My heartfelt thanks go to you for this wonderful service."

(Mrs.) Sadie B. Seaton, Goodlettsville, Tenn.

Gem of Australia

Traveler Finds Sydney City of Beauty

Another in a series of articles by Nina Pulliam on the customs of the people of Australia, New Zealand and the Fiji Islands. Mrs. Pulliam, wife of Eugene C. Pulliam, publisher of the Indianapolis Star and other newspapers, is gathering material for a book on the world "Down Under."

By NINA PULLIAM

SYDNEY, New South Wales, Australia, (NANA)—Fresh from my vow of first-last-and eternal love to the city by the Golden Gate in California, my fickle heart makes ready room for Sydney Harbor — but whose would not?

Certainly Sydney's is one of the really magnificent and excitingly beautiful harbors of all the world. It stirs memories of other great ones — of Rio and Hong Kong and San Francisco—but beyond all that, it has a spirit quite its own. And with the generosity which seems to characterize all things Australian, it spreads itself before you, offering for your pleasure all it has.

I saw it first from the starboard side of the clipper on a morning in early spring, for winter has ended now in this land down under, south of the equator. We came in from over the Pacific through a bank of angry fast-running clouds and there, all at once, Sydney lay beneath us in radiant sunshine.

AS FAR AS ONE can see to the north and to the south of Sydney heads—great, protective promontories which stand as eternal guardians of this coast—the breakers hurl themselves in white creaming foam against the cliffs for mile on mile. The insistent green waters of the Pacific have cut deeply into the body of Australia, leaving the land in many peninsulas, sometimes like a giant's gnarled fingers clutching at the waves or, elsewhere, softened and smoothed into gentle curves—with here and there a little green bouquet of earth, detached and solitary. These are the city. Seen from above, it is a far-flung jumble of geometrics paved in warm red, so many and so close are the houses roofed with bright tiles.

In the most restrained words, it is a spectacular sight, oddly reminiscent, even through the bright sunshine, of the drama and tragedy, the tumult and agony of its founding as "A colony of disgracefuls, at some distant part of earth," a "human rubbish heap." And I have come here, eager and receptive, to listen to its heartbeat.

This, then, is how the oldest known land surface of the globe, the world's largest island and its smallest continent—this is how it looks at first meeting. And as I stepped down at Kingsford Smith airport at Sydney and took my first breath of Australia's sweet spring air I was at once deeply happy to be here.

I should be tactless and unneighborly if I did not, before I draw another breath, take note of the Sydney harbor bridge, that great mass of 50,000 tons of steel which spans the bay, connecting the south shore with the north. This landmark is to people living Sydney-side, and sometimes to other Australians, as the Statue of Liberty is to an American. One must be ready to say, at once, "Aaaaah, yes—your bridge." It is desirable, if humanly possible, to uncover when you say it, and a bit of a hush in your voice will do no harm.

Reactions vary. Even in the softening light of dusk, I do not see it quite as Thomas Wood did, as "a rainbow curve of latticed steel." On the other hand, I do not agree with the Melbourners, ("Just jealous of us, y'know") who call it "That coat hanger"! It is a splendid bridge, handsome and useful, the world's mightiest single-archer. It takes 61 months and 203 tons of paint to do a single job on it—there's a tea-room, a gift shop and a garden in one pylon—in short, it is indeed a very fine bridge, indeed!

IN LATE afternoon I walked alone for miles in this tumultuous city, keeping my sense of direction intact by the tiny, true compass my husband had given me as we said good-bye in San Francisco. Sydney's streets are without rhyme or rhythm following the cowpaths and bullock roads of its past. Bowed by the burden of traffic, there are one-way streets and there are pedestrian "refuges" in the middle of the crossings. A yellow line has been painted down the center of the sidewalks so pedestrians have a slight chance to avoid death by crushing—you walk to the left of this line. You, also, of course, drive left. If your car has a left-hand drive, there must be a sign on the back saying so, and if you are a "learner" you must have a large "L" on the rear of the car you're driving.

"Do you have fogs here in Sydney?" I asked a pedestrian waitney?" I asked a pedestrian waiting beside me for a green light. "Fogs? Fogs, Miss? Ah no, not here. . . .but in Melbourne, now . . ."I had not mentioned Melbourne, nor did I intend to. The rivalry between the cities is acute and sometimes disastrous! "Well, that's fine," I interrupted hastily. "Your beaches are lovely, aren't they?" "Ah . . . and they are, too, Miss. There's Coogee and Bondi and Manly, 33 of them we have. Y'know. . .Now in Melbourne, of course, it's only a tolerable beach."

WITH ONLY a distant warning rumble of thunder, a spring rain set on as twilight deepened into night. I ran for a cab . . .hours later, the capricious rain gone as completely as though it had never come, the pell-mell pulse of the city slowed and it sank to rest. I looked from my high window toward the bay, spanned now by only a vaulting arch of light. Suddenly my feeling for this great legend-haunted city almost overwhelmed me. It was as though I had come home at last to something "which I have loved long since, and lost a while."

Oklahoma Bank Bandits Wind Up Job With Loss

ARAPAHO, Okla. (AP)—Bank robbers who were hoping for a big haul after they broke into the Custer National Bank here came up with a deficit instead.

An alert cashier showed up after dark to take care of some unfinished business and surprised the burglars. They hurriedly escaped, leaving behind an expensive set of drills, dynamite and caps.

Police Arrest Three In Cincinnati, Get $5,000 in Narcotics

CINCINNATI (AP)— Several days of watching a Cincinnati residence paid off yesterday with the arrest of three Evanston, Ill., persons and seizure of heroin which police said would have a value of $5,000 on the retail market.

Police had been watching the home of James R. Freeman, 23, since his arrest last week in the belief a supply of the narcotics might be brought to him. They arrested Freeman Wednesday and confiscated heroin worth $3,700. Freeman subsequently was released on bond.

The Evanston trio arrested yesterday were L. Maurice, Goodwin, 34; Edith Goodwin, 27, and Barbara Morton, 22.

Lt. Russel Jones said he and other detectives followed Freeman and the Illinois persons around town until they finally separated. Officers then forced Goodwin's car to the side of the street when it appeared they were headed out of town.

'Body' Only Dummy

TULSA, Okla. (AP)—Police received calls reporting a body lying in the street. Rushing to the scene, they found the "body" all right — a dressmaker's dummy wearing a shirt and khaki trousers. Now they're waiting to see who claims it.

A central location is the most convenient for all businesses which serve people from every part of the city. It is obvious therefore that a funeral home should be located near the central business district, since those served, and those who attend services, will live in various sections of the city.

The Schaffner-Denzer Funeral Home is ideally located within easy driving distance of those from all parts of Marion. Another advantage of our location is that those working in the central business district who attend services here lose a minimum of time from their work or business.

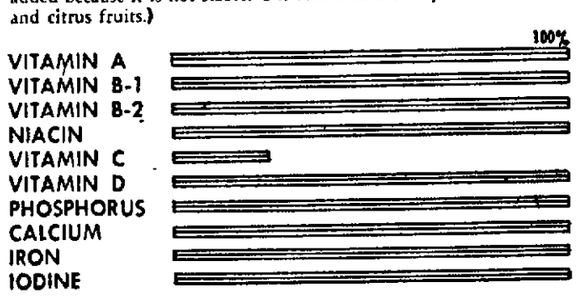
Gail Borden Signature Quality Milk and Skimmed Milk

Now . . . Borden scientists have enabled us to fortify pure fresh milk with extra amounts of these vital nutrients. This is the biggest milk news since the discovery of pasteurization —and the most interesting nutrition story in many years. You know how important vitamins and minerals are to your health. Now, for the first time, you can get extra vitamin-mineral protection in a single food! Just one quart of Gail Borden Milk—either whole or skimmed—brings you the minimum adult daily requirements of the 9 most important vitamins and minerals—at very low cost!

This chart tells the story

Here is shown in chart form just how Gail Borden Milk meets your dietary needs. The chart shows the percent of the minimum adult daily requirements of vitamins and minerals — according to U.S. Food & Drug Adm. standards — supplied by one quart of Gail Borden Whole or Skimmed Milk. (Vitamin C is not added because it is not stable. C is found abundantly in tomatoes and citrus fruits.)



Ask your doctor! If your doctor thinks there is a possibility that you're not getting enough vitamins and minerals, ask him about Gail Borden Milk.

Both kinds of Gail Borden Milk delivered — or at your store

Two kinds of Gail Borden . . .one of them just for you

For most persons . . .
Gail Borden Whole Milk

This is pure, whole milk . . . produced under ideal conditions . . . and especially guarded all the way from Borden-inspected farms to you. It is perfectly homogenized for even flavor, for uniform richness, and for easy digestability.

We all know how important vitamins and minerals are — but usually we go on eating what we like. That's why Gail Borden can be so valuable . . . because most everyone likes milk. And though you may not drink an entire quart every day — what you do drink gives you that much extra protection.

The fortification with extra vitamins and minerals does not change the flavor of Gail Borden Milk in any way whatever! As far as taste is concerned, Gail Borden is just pure, fresh homogenized milk. But what a difference when it comes to nutrition . . . because it can be your extra margin of protection!

For people on diets . . .
Gail Borden Skimmed Milk

Persons on a diet should be especially careful to get plenty of vitamins, minerals and proteins. When the total food intake is reduced, it becomes more difficult than ever to get enough of these "protective" dietary factors — yet the need for them remains the same, whether you are dieting or not.

Gail Borden Skimmed Milk solves this difficulty! One quart contains only 421 calories . . . but contains 100% of the daily minimum needs of nine out of ten vitamins and minerals. Because it contains added non-fat milk solids, it is extra high in protein, too. And another important fact is that Gail Borden tastes good — not at all like ordinary "skim"!

With Gail Borden Skimmed Milk, you can lose weight — safely! First, of course, get the advice of your doctor. Then use Gail Borden to help you plan a safe low-calorie diet!

Barons Defeat Cleveland 5-4 in Hockey Exhibition

2,000 Fans Watch Action; League Opens Wednesday

The Marion Barons made their first appearance before home fans a success Sunday afternoon as they edged their parent club, the Cleveland Barons, 5-4.

Defenseman Ted Lebodia, with an assist from Mack Beaton, right winger, scored at 9:25 of the last quarter to give Marion the win. He sent the puck past Cleveland Goalie Emile Francis from 15 feet in front of the net.

Score Tied 4 Times

An estimated 2,000 fans, many from out of town, watched the teams in the battle. The score was knotted four times before Lebodi's winning goal. Lou Crowdis, Marion's goal tender came up with 27 saves while Francis was credited with 22.

The Cleveland club jumped into a lead after only 15 seconds of action when Eddie Olson scored an unassisted goal. Murray Wilkie tied the score at 6:00 when he sneaked a shot past Francis. Ray Ross, Cleveland center, came back at 9:00 to score with an assist from Jack Stoddard and Ray Ceresino. With 17:46 elapsed, Marion's Gordon Vejprava knotted the count with an assist going to Paul Emms. Jerry Prince sent Marion into a 3-2 lead just before the end of the first period with an unassisted score.

Glen Sonmor, left wing, scored for Cleveland with 15:12 gone in the second period. Assists went to Tony Poeta and Frank Kubasek. Sonmor scored again at 2:55 of the third period for the losers' final tally. He was assisted by Tom Williams.

Del St. John scored Marion's fourth goal at 1:20 of the third period. He was assisted by Ken Schultz and Wal Samnski.

Ends in Fight

The game ended with a near riot when Lebodia and Cleveland's Gus Karrys tangled after a collision against the board. Before the squabble was halted, Karrys had offered to take on the entire Marion squad and had moved in on several of the boys. Before the melee was stopped Karrys and Lebodia along with Cleveland's Jack Gordon and Marion's Murray Wilkie, were given penalty box time by the officials. The fight erupted at 19:30 of the last period.

While yesterday's exhibition marked the first action for the the new Marion club, fans were given their first glimpse of the squad Saturday night when an open house and a hockey clinic was held at the new Coliseum rink.

Coach Ott Heller was introduced and he in turn introduced the players. The team ran through several basic hockey formations and they were explained by the public address announcer, Jack Boyd.

Prior to the appearance of the team, Miss Ann Gillis, Canadian gold medalist figure skater, performed. Miss Gillis will serve as skating instructor for the public skating sessions planned this winter at the Coliseum.

Several Skate

Following the clinic, the rink was opened for skaters. Local officials of the team expressed surprise at the number of skaters which took advantage of the ice. An estimated 250 persons were on the ice.

The Barons will open the regular hockey season Wednesday night when they play host to the Cincinnati Mohawks. The Cincinnati club is defending champions of the International Hockey League.

SHORT SPORTS

By John Short

SHORT

Ohio State football fans were shocked Saturday by a hard-charging Illinois team but even more stunned than the 81,000 fans were the Buckeye gridders.

After watching their Rose Bowl hopes go fluttering away for the second year in a row, due to an upset, the Bucks gave the appearance of a thoroughly whipped squad. And Woody Hayes and his aides were in the same mood.

The OSU team was a picture of confidence as it took the field but in a few minutes a couple of halfbacks, J. C. Caroline and Mike Bates, had changed all that as they pushed the Illini into a 21-0 lead. The OSU team did fight back in the second quarter to trail at the half by a 21-20 count and fans were sure the Bucks were in.

However, a pass interception in the early minutes of the third quarter was returned deep into Ohio territory and the Illini scored again. From that point on the Bucks were never in the game. Fans started leaving as early as the middle of the third period.

Fumbles, pass interceptions and a complete lack of line play brought the OSU downfall. Hayes and his assistants spent most of last week on drills to stop Illinois' passing attack and the gridders learned their lessons well. The foe completed only one pass all afternoon but Ray Eliot sent his squad all the way on the ground.

The middle of the Ohio line was helpless against the thrusts of Bates and Caroline ripped the ends to shreds. Running mostly out of option plays, the Illini would fake to Bates through the middle and send Caroline wide or reverse the procedure. Either way, the Buckeye defense seemd confused.

All-American Mike Takacs spent most of the afternoon picking himself up after being dumped by the Illinois line which continued to open holes wide enough for a truck.

Most fans sat anxiously through the late minutes of the game waiting for an announcement on the scores on the Texas Christian - Michigan State and Michiga-Iowa battles.

Marion's Paul Ludwig seems to have the No. 2 punting job clinched. John Borton handles the kicking but with him ineligible to re-enter the game, Paul is sent in. During a game with the Illinois Jayvees Friday, Ludwig drew rave notices from the Ohio coaches for his punting chores. The Buck Jayvees pounded out a 20-0 win.

SCORES ON 64-YARD RUN. J. C. Caroline (26), Illinois back, is shown just before he crossed Ohio State's goal line for Illinois' third touchdown at Columbus. The Ohio State would-be tackler, who didn't quite make it, is Dave Leggett (22), a back. Illinois won, 41-20.

Coaches Proved Right

Upsets Mark Collegiate Scene; NCAA Plan Blamed

By ED CORRIGAN

NEW YORK (AP) — The college football season isn't even half over but it already looks like most of the coaches who predicted dire things as a result of the one-platoon system were right.

The mentors weren't the least bit happy when the NCAA outlawed the two-platoon setup. Many said they wouldn't be able to cope with the new system.

The results after three weeks seem to bear them out. There always are upsets, but some of the scores are inexplicable, like California's 40-0 massacre of Penn and Illinois' 41-20 shellacking of Ohio State Saturday.

From the very first day of the season when Mississippi Southern trounced Alabama, the big name coaches have been holding their heads. Georgia Tech, until it whipped Tulane, 27-13, Saturday, had scored exactly one touchdown in two previous games. Oklahoma, until it whipped Texas, 19-14, had not won a game.

Musclemen like Michigan State, Michigan, Southern California, Baylor and Duke all had their troubles. All Southern Cal, rated the co-favorite for the Pacific Coast Conference title, could do was tie Washington 13-13 on a 70-yard return and a 78-yard pass interception.

Michigan State, rated right behind Notre Dame in the national rankings, had to call on substitute back Evan Slonic to score the tieing touchdown, then go on to beat Texas Christian 26-19. Michigan beat Iowa 14-13 on sophomore Lou Baldacci's conversion. Baylor edged Arkansas 14-7 in the last three minutes, and Duke beat Purdue 20-14, notching the winning touchdown just 39 seconds before the end.

The Ohio State debacle and the Penn trouncing probably were the biggest surprises of the season. The Buckeyes were supposed to fight it out with Michigan State and Michigan for the Big Ten crown. Now they could be out of it. Illinois definitely is to be reckoned with.

The fact that California—reputedly a sub-par outfit this year—beat Penn was not what amazed the experts. It was the way Pappy Waldorf's lads put the Quakers through the meatgrinder. Unless it was a fluke, UCLA and Southern Cal may have some competition for the PCC title.

After enjoying a day off Saturday, Notre Dame plays Pitt this week. Michigan State continues its quest for the Big Ten title against Indiana, which isn't figured to offer much opposition.

Ohio State and Penn, the two victims, play each other.

Maryland, which seems to be the class of the South after humbling Georgia 40-13, tackles North Carolina. The Terps are one of the few teams in the country living up to expectations.

UCLA, 13-0 winner over Wisconsin, plays Stanford while Southern Cal has a date with Oregon State and California takes it easy against San Jose State.

Duke travels to New York for a game with Army; Baylor, the favorite (this week) of the Southwest Conference, crosses paths with Arkansas, and Georgia Tech meets tough Auburn, the team that fought Mississippi State to a 21-21 standstill.

Withrow Takes Lead in County Golf Tourney

Norman Withrow shot a pair of 37's yesterday to take the lead in the first round of the county golf tournament on the Country Club corse.

Bob Hastings had a pair of 38's to rank second in the field of 20 competng for The Marion Star trophy.

The second and final round of 18 holes will be played next Sunday.

Jack Stoddard, Country Club pro, reported that a high wind made the golfing rough and accounted for high scores. None of the entrants were able to break the Club's par of 72 for 18 holes and 36 for nine.

Next Sunday's pairings will be announced Saturday.

Scores shot yesterday were:

Withrow, 37-37-74; Hastings, 38-38-76. Alva Newell, 41-38-79; Dick Ruby, 40-40-80; Herb Petrich, 39-41-80; Dick Owens, 40-41-81, John Rife, 39-43-82; Maurie Cornell, 42-40-82; John Dugan, 42-42-83; Warren Rowley, 43-41-84. Babe Zaharias Recovered, Set For Links Play

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP)—Babe Didrikson Zaharias, whose sports career was feared at an end six months ago when she underwent an operation for cancer, is recovering "perfectly" and will return to golf on a full-time basis.

The famous woman athlete is here to play in the Texas Women's Open, of which she is defending champion, and it will be the only tournament for her until next year. But she will start a national tour about Nov. 1 with Lew Worsham, winner of the World's Championship Tournament at Chicago this summer. They will visit 35 cities, under sponsorship of George May, who puts on the Chicago tournament, and give lessons in golf—all free to the public.

In January she will make the woman's golf tour starting at Tampa, Fla., where she lives and owns a golf course.

Mrs. Zaharias was in Beaumont, Tex., last week for the first six-month checkup following her operation. The physicians told her all tests were negative and she was recovering "perfectly."

The Babe now weighs 160 pounds but is dieting and will cut down to 145. "I feel wonderful and I am playing well," she said. "The only trouble is that I get tired on the back nine of a round."

But she makes the 18 all right and it was only a couple of months ago that she finished third in the women's division of the World's Tournament at Chicago. She played 18 holes at the Fort Sam Houston course in San Antonio Saturday and shot a 72.

"But I'm like a butterball," she grinned, "and I am just going to have to push away from the potato salad."

She will play in the Babe Zaharias Open, named for her, at her home town, Beaumont, next April. That will be the occasion for her checkup for the year.

"If anything shows up then I'll have to give up golf," she said.

"You know it takes five years to know definitely that you are cured."

Lions, Browns Hold Leads In Pro Grid Conferences

By ORLO ROBERTSON

NEW YORK (AP)—Could Commissioner Bert Bell have been thinking only of one half of the National Football League when he made the prediction that every team in the circuit would be stronger and in the thick of the pennant fights?

Here it is the third week of the league's 34th season and three clubs in the Eastern Conference—Philadelphia, Chicago's Cardinals and New York—have not won a game. The Eagles of Philadelphia do have one tie.

By contrast the Western Conference has only one winless team—the Green Bay Packers.

The standings after one game Saturday and five yesterday show the champion Detroit Lions leading the Western division with three victories in as many starts. But the San Francisco 49ers, Baltimore Colts and the Los Angeles Rams are only a game back, each with 2 and 1 records.

In the Eastern Conference the Cleveland Browns hold their usual place at the top but the surprising Washington Redskins also have a perfect record. However, the Redskins have one less victory, having been tied by the Eagles. Pittsburgh's Steelers trailed by a game.

The Lions took over the undisputed lead of their division yesterday by edging the 49ers 24-21. Baltimore and Los Angeles remained in strong contention with respective 16-14 and 38-20 victories over the Chicago Bears and Green Bay.

Cleveland sat out yesterday after beating the Eagles 37-13 in a Saturday night contest. The Redskins turned in their second triumph in a Sunday affair, edging the Giants 13-9 and Pittsburgh scored 17 points in the last quarter for a 31-28 conquest of the Chicago Cardinals.

The winning touchdown in yesterday's Detroit - San Francisco thriller came in the third period on a 49-yard pass from Bobby Layne to Leon Hart. Doak Walker passed to Cloyce Box for another TD and picked up seven points with his toe, including a 23-yard field goal.

The 49ers found themselves stymied through the last 22 minutes after losing their ace quarterback, Y. A. Tittle, who fractured a cheekbone scoring the West Coast eleven's final touchdown in the third quarter.

Jack Scarbath, All-America from Maryland, was the big gun in the Redskins victory. Two passes, covering a total of 88 yards, gave them their touchdown and Bill Dudley booted the remaining points.

Jimmy Finks completed 23 of 44 passes, two for touchdowns, but the Steelers needed Nick Bolkovac's 28-yard last period field goal to beat the Cards.

Passing also played a big role in the victories of Baltimore and Los Angeles. The Colts' Fred Enke completed 14 out of 31 for 236 yards and two touchdowns while Norm Van Brocklin and rookie Rudy Bukich riddled the Packers' defense with accurate aerials.

Otto Graham connected on 20 of 30 attempts Saturday night for a game average of 66 6 per cent. Against Green Bay he had 18 of 24 or 75 per cent, and against the Chicago Cardinals he completed 15 of 22 for 68 22 per cent. In three games the figures are 53 of 76 for 69 7 per cent. In percentage of completions, the season record is 70 3 per cent by Sammy Baugh of the Redskins in 1945.

Automatic Otto's passing figured in all the scoring drives Saturday night except twice. The second of Lou Groza's field goals followed an interception, and no passing plays set it up. And the Browns' last touchdown was a 42 - yard scamper by middle guard Jerry Hellum, who grabbed a fumble.

Graham passed 16 yards for a touchdown to right end Dante Lavelli, and set up two other scores made by Chick Jagade from 14 yards each time, on trap plays. Otto's total yardage was 328

Bucks Tangle With Penn in Week's Feature

By FRITZ HOWELL

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio State's battered Buckeyes, if they rebound from Saturday's unexpected 41-20 defeat at the hands of underdog Illinois, run into what might be termed a "breather" next weekend.

The Bucks tangle with Pennsylvania at Philadelphia in the feature of a 20-game program for Ohio college squads. The figures point to a conquest for Woody Hayes' charges.

On Oct 3 Ohio State rolled up a 33-19 victory over California on the latter's home lot, but Saturday California, after a cross - country trip, whipped Pennsylvania 40-0. On paper that would give the Bucks a 51-point edge over Penn. But the game isn't played on paper.

Ohio and Pennsylvania have met twice on the gridiron, the Bucks winning 19-0 in 1932, and 20-7 the following year. Penn, like Ohio State, was unbeaten-untied until they ran into Saturday's roadblock.

For the stay-at-home fans, Saturday's program has some outstanding contests. Heaviest interest centers at Akron where Mount Union and the Zippers clash with the statewide and Ohio Conference leaderships hanging in the balance. Each has won four straight, the only clubs with such a record. Akron as outscored the foe 129 to 69 while the Mounts have a 127-59 scoring record.

Other big ones are Kent State at Ohio University, with the Mid-American Conference top spot at stake; Findlay at Defiance, for undisputed leadership in the Mid-Ohio League; Miami's high-scoring Redskins against Marshall at Huntington, W. Va., and the red-hot clash between Xavier and Cincinnat on the latter's grid.

Eight of the 2 games are against out-of-state foes, a department in which the Buckeye clubs have a bit of catching-up to accomplish. Against out-of-state teams the Ohio ans have won 21, lost 22 and tied two while being outscored 835 to 817.

Other games this weekend send Youngstown to Eastern Kentucky Friday, with Saturday's frays including Western Michigan at Toledo, Ohio Northern at Bluffton, Heidelberg at Capital, Marietta at Wittenberg, Denison at Ohio Wesleyan, Muskingum at Wooster, Case at John Carroll, Western Reserve at Buffalo, Indiana Central at Hiram, Bowling Green at Baldwin Wallace, Wilmington at Otterbein, Kenyon at Hobart, and Central State at Bluefield State.

Bob Watkins Still Tops Scoring Race

CHICAGO (AP)—Bob Watkins, Ohio State's stocky young powerhouse, continues to lead Big Ten individual scorers. He has a total of 42 points against conference and non-conference opponents.

Watkins added a touchdown in Ohio State's 41-20 loss to Illinois and now has crossed the goal seven times in the Bucks' three games.

Next in line is Mickey Bates, Illinois sophomore who counted four TDs against OSU. Bates scored once in each of Illinois' two previous games and now has 36 points.

Tony Branoff of Michigan has 27, and Leroy Bolden of Michigan State 24.

Upset-Minded Kentucky Coach Forgets Score

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — Kentucky's Coach Bear Bryant was in an unusually sour mood when he left the field at Baton Rouge, La., Saturday night after his team's game with LSU.

An hour or so later someone asked him how he felt coming off with a 6-6 tie against the favored Bayou Bengals. "My God! You don't mean it!" Bryant exclaimed. "I thought we got beat 7-6."

Then Bryant explained sheepishly he had become so engrossed in the game that he had neglected to look at the scoreboard . . . and he had given his boys a bitter dressing down for dropping the decision.

Big Ten Eyes Illinois After Upset of OSU

CHICAGO (AP)—Is the Illinois football team really as good as it looked in beating powerful Ohio State 41-20 Saturday? That's something even Illini Coach Ray Eliot wonders about.

"I just don't know," he mused on returning from the unexpected victory at Columbus. "Maybe that was just a flash in the pan. Maybe we actually have developed into a steady team. How can you tell now?"

Eliot was still shaking his head over the performance of his sophomore-loaded squad.

"We were all simply amazed," he said. "I just didn't know they could do all that. Of course, we had our share of breaks. We recovered four Ohio fumbles—that sort of thing. But the boys were really great."

How does Eliot explain this sudden surge to the heights from the lacklustre Illini showing in being tied by Nebraska 21-21 in their opening game?

"Well, I think we were green against Nebraska. I wish we'd had a game under our belts before we played them. But we've been improving every week, apparently. We beat Stanford (33-21) and I think we were up for Ohio.

"Possibly Ohio State was looking past us to some of their future opponents.

"But it's hard to say. You just can't explain that sort of an upset."

Then Eliot turned with a frown to the future.

"Talking about upsets, how about Minnesota? My scouts tell me Wes Fesler's guys did a terrific job in knocking over Northwestern (30-13). We've got to play them next Saturday.

"And remember: we're not going to be able to sneak up on anyone after this. Those Gophers look like they found themselves Saturday. I only hope we have."

With Ohio State at least temporarily out of the title chase, the league's hungry underdogs were eying fat Michigan State and Michigan. Both are undefeated through three games and, with Illinois, lead Big Ten standings.

MSC's defending national champions and Michigan's Wolverines gave something of the appearance Saturday of appetizing fare for upsetminded little fellows.

Both had to rely on last-period comebacks to beat teams that were considered easy pickings. MSC staggered to a 26-19 decision over Texas Christian and Michigan nipped Iowa 14-13 after spending virtually the entire afternoon in the hole.

Indiana beat Marquette 21-20 for the first Hoosier victory in three starts.

Harold Jones Leads Attack

Harding Reserves' Aerials Down Fostoria Team 34-0

Quarterback Harold Jones was practically a one-man show Saturday morning as Harding's reserves blanked the Fostoria jayvees, 39-0, at the Fostoria stadium.

Jones had a hand in every Harding touchdown, throwing five scoring aerials and making the sixth on an end run. Although no statistics were kept, Coach Pete Howison estimated that Jones connected on three-fourth's of his passes.

End Ted Firstenberger also put on a good show. He was on the receiving end of four touchdown passes.

Fostoria took the ball on the opening kickoff and put on a drive to the Harding 10. But here the drive ran out of steam and the rout began.

A first quarter pass from Jones to Firstenberger was good for 10 yards and the initial touchdown. Scoring in the second period consisted of a 35-yard Jones-to-Firstenberger pass play and a 60-yard Jones-to-Burns aerial.

In the third quarter two Jones-to-Firstenberger pass plays, one for 60 yards and the other for 30, accounted for the scoring. Harding's final touchdown came in the fourth stanza when Jones went, 35 yards on an end sweep.

Harding scored its three extra points on running plays. Gary Huber, who usually centers for the Vice Presidents, didn't make the trip after seeing a lot of defensive action in the previous night's varsity game, leaving the reserves without a center who could snap the ball back fast enough for placement kicking.

Pete Schnauffer scored two of the extras and Tom Hazen one

Howison was impressed with the speed of Phil Carroll, a junior back, who played his first game after reporting out for the squad only a week ago. He made several long gains on end sweeps and intercepted two passes.

Rhodes Blasts Laxity in Ohio Liquor Sales

Careless Handling of Retail Slips Claimed Break for Bootleggers

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—State Auditor James A. Rhoades said today liquor department laxness is contributing to bootlegging in Ohio.

In a letter to Liquor Director Anthony A. Rutkowki, Rhodes indicated the bootlegging was carried on by purchasers of liquor from state stores for illegal resale.

Rutkowski is an appointee of Democrat Gov. Frank J. Lausche. Rhodes is a Republican.

William R. Morris, former liquor department permit chief and now in charge of liquor auditors or Rhodes, said a two-week examination showed thousands of retail purchase slips improperly made out but accepted by state liquor stores.

The examination dealt with unusually large purchases of liquor in pint bottles by various individuals who gave phoney names and improper addresses, many of them vacant lots, schools and even churches.

Rhodes said "hip pocket stuff" was used by such buyers for illegal resale, often on Sundays, at premium prices or was diluted and sold at fancy profits.

The state auditor said statutes required liquor stores customers to sign their names and addresses to purchase slips.

Rhodes' letter said examination of 33 state liquor stores in 18 principal cities turned up this situation:

"Out of a total of 46,032 retail purchase orders examined, 20,249 purchase orders were found to be illegible, incomplete and in many cases illegally made out, yet these were accepted by the department.

"In many instances sales were made without names or addresses being shown. Many times the entire purchase order was blank. Many sales were made on purchase orders that were wholly illegible and, obviously, were meant so to be by the purchaser.

"On numerous occasions fictitious names such as Joe Blow, Al K. Hall, Worry Wart, I. Grandpappy, Damned If I Know, John Doe and Transient were used by the purchaser.

"These facts reveal the apathetic manner in which the provisions of the law and the regulations are enforced by the department of liquor control.

"This conclusion was definitely established when an examination or more pints were sold to the same person, revealed that 265 of non-existant, commercial establishments, churches, vacant lots, playgrounds, schools, or similar fictitous addresses. . ."

A breakdown of pint purchases showed 258 sold in one month to a Canton purchaser; 221 pints and 28 fifths in 26 days to a resident of Youngstown and purchases of 63 and 64 pints in thre days by two residents of Akron.

The list also included large purchases of pints in Cleveland, Cincinnati, Columbus, Toledo, Springfield and Hamilton.

Lucy's Back

"I Love Lucy," still the top money winner in the rating sweepstake, returned to the air Tuesday and it'll be interesting to see what happens next. Lucille Ball, I guess we all now know, hit the headlines this fall as a girl who once registered as a Communist. This is not to be construed as being a member of the Communist party. She registered Communist as you would register Republican or Democrat or Greenback party back when the Communists were considered a party, not a conspiracy.

J. CROSBY

She did it to placate her strong-willed grandfather who sounds as if he came straight out of "You Can't Take It With You," a born rebel with rather comic overtones.

-:-

THE HOUSE un-American Activities Committee, which unearthed this strange tale, gave Miss Ball a clean bill of health and passed on to other matters.

When the event became public, the letters poured in, just about all of them defending Miss Ball.

Just the same, there were some blanched faces at Philip Morris, which sponsors the show, and Milton Biow, which is the advertising agency. They sceare easy on Madison Avenue, which is a long way from the grass roots.

Well, "Lucy" is back and now what? It is this phenomenally successful show's third year on the air.

It was my private guess made long before the headlines broke that "Lucy" was in for a slide in popular esteem. Not a big slide, mind you. But some sort of levelling off.

AFTER ALL, Lucy has got just about the most amazing ratings ever racked up and, it seemed to me logical, that this would be the year for it to subside somewhat.

But now, if this happens—and it's just a hunch that it will—chances are that it'll be blamed on the Communist monkeyshines.

If "Lucy" does suffer a bit of a sinking this year, just bear in mind that there are lots of factors besides that incident in 1936 that are more probably responsible.

The rating was incredible to start out with. The competition is stiffer every year. People get tired of things on television. It was bound to come down.

THE OPENING show was pretty funny, just pretty funny. Last year's opening, as I recall, was a riot. This one wasn't.

Last year, if my memory is at all to be trusted, Miss Ball and her girl friend next door (or rather downstairs) decided they'd be the family breadwinners, got a job in a candy factory and turned the place upside down. It was hilarious.

This year, Miss Lucy again decided life was too humdrum at home and, over her husband's violent objections, tried to get a job as a dancer in his nightclub show. The plots on the "Lucy" show will hardly bear serious examination but it doesn't matter.

MISS BALL is one of the most heavenly gifted clowns around and, if you give her anything at all to do, she'll stir up some laughter.

But the "Lucy" shows — let's face it — are beginning to sound an awful lot alike. Miss Ball is always trying to bust out of the house: Mr. Arnaz is trying to keep her in apron strings.

The variations on this theme are infinite but it's the same theme just the same and I'm a mite tired of it. I don't think I'll ever get tired of Miss B., though. She is a joy to watch.

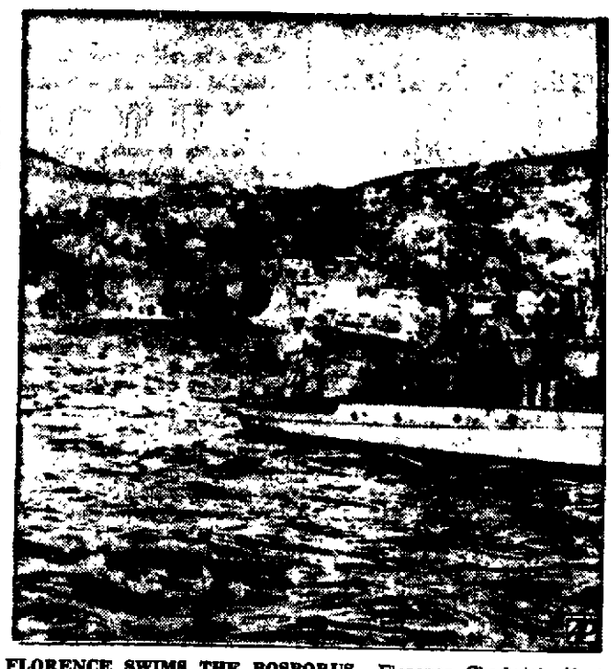
JUST FOR the benefit of the 14,000,000 guys who are now producing or are about to produce another husband and wife domestic situation comedy for television, "Lucy" is one of the two shows on which the husbands are not portrayed as grown-up children. The other one: Burns and Allen.

It's more than coincidence that these are the two best husband and wife shows on television, two of the best shows of any sort on TV for that matter.

Still, in spite of the success of those two shows, I'll bet you a quarter the next three husband and wife domestic comedies will feature an idiot of a husband and a wise, all - knowing wife who manipulates him like a puppet on a string.

HEALTH LEVIES CONSIDERED

MT. GILEAD — Two vital health levies will be voted upon in Morrow County, including the Health Department operational renewal tax levy of .05 mills and a hospital levy of .065 mills for a five-year period. Various county groups of endorsing the important and vital health measures.



FLORENCE SWIMS THE BOSPORUS. Florence Chadwick (foreground) swims through the strong current of the Bosporus from Europe to Asia on her way to another conquest in a grand tour of swimming the straits of continental Europe. The 33-year-old ex-typist from San Diego, Calif., was timed at one hour and 14 minutes and seven seconds. European coastline is at left and Asian side is at right. She planned to swim the Dardanelles to complete her circuit of Europe's great waterways.

5 Seattle Reds Found Guilty By U.S. Jury

Long Criminal Trial Began in April; One Defendant Acquitted

SEATTLE (AP)—One of the longest criminal trials in Pacific Northwest history came to a close here Saturday when a federal court jury convicted five of six persons charges with conspiracy to teach and advocate the violent overthrow the government.

The sixth defendant, labor leader Karly Larsen, was acquitted by the six men and six women jurors.

Scheduled to be sentenced Friday by Federal Judge William J. Lindberg for violation of the Smith Act were:

Henry P. Huff, state chairman of the Communist party.

Terry Pettus, Northwest editor of the Communist Daily Peoples' World and a member of the party's district committee.

John S. Daschbach, a member of the Communist party's review commission and chairman of the state Civil Rights Congress.

Paul M. Bowen, leader of the state Negro Communist movement and member of the party's Northwest District Committee.

Mrs. Barbara Hartle, organization secretary for the Communist party's Northwest District.

They face a maximum sentence of five years in prison or $10,000 fine or both. Defense attorneys said yesterday they would appeal.

Larsen, ousted as district vice president of the CIO International Woodworkers of America shortly after the trial began, maintained throughout that he left the party in 1946 after being a member for 13 years.

The marathon trial began April 15, with seven defendants. But on Aug. 2, two days before he was scheduled to take the stand for cross-examination, William J. Pennock, president of the Washington Pension Union, was found dead in his Seattle home. The death was listed as suicide.

Major Distributorship
EXCLUSIVE FRANCHISE
Major manufacturer is willing to appoint an exclusive distributor (individual or organization) in this area for a NEW product in the home improvement field. Attractive discount schedule will enable this distributor to profitably handle all sales avenues, including contractors, wholesalers, retailers, and direct selling organizations, and to operate in any of those categories.
This product is enjoying tremendous volume already in areas where it has been introduced. It is so new that not one home owner in ten in this area is yet aware that it is available at a price which he can afford. FHA financing makes it easy to purchase. Effective national advertising by manufacturer with local tie-in for distributor. Successful operation will net $40,000 first year.

GOLLY, ZERO — IT'S A POETRY DAY! IT'S KINDA FREEZY, BUT THE SUN IS SHININ' TERRIBLE BRIGHT —
—ALL THE BIRDS AN' FLOWERS HAVE GONE SOUTH ON THEIR VACATIONS — THEY JUST LOVE SUMMER —
—AN' THEY ALWAYS GO WHERE SUMMER GOES — WHEN THE FROST IS ON THE PUMPKINS, THE PUMPKINS SAY "AIN'T FROST GRAND?!"

Electrical Project Changing Portugal

LISBON (UP) — A 10-year-old, government-backed hydro-electric power development project is gradually changing the face of Portugal and opening the door to industrialization.

Steam and diesel engines produced most of Portugal's electricity as late as 1946. The country's new hydro-electric plants now, however, produce nearly 95 per cent of electric power at considerably cheaper consumer costs. Heavy industries now pay about 44 American cents per kilowatt hour, private consumers 14 to 28 cents.

The Portuguese government has invested some 40 per cent of the money in the power projects. Most of the actual development, however, has been done since 1945 by three big private companies whose capital has come from the public, from big industrial consumers and from private power supply companies, as well as from the government.

United States aid, through ECA and MSA, has been extensive. Direct dollar aid has been nearly $3,500,000 in Portugal and her overseas territories.

Connecticut is credited with passing the first law for public control of crop pests. In 1726, the Connecticut Colony authorized towns to arrange for destruction of barberry bushes which carried a disease fatal to wheat.
